Introduction

Using a double is not a novelty, something unusual or unconceivable!

On Hitler's Doubles and Leaders' Doubles.

Joe Reeder, the under-secretary of the United Stated Army (1993-1997), said many of the world's leaders have used a double, and he named names: Manuel Noriega, Joseph Stalin, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Field Marshal Montgomery, Fidel Castro, George W. Bush and Osama bin Laden.
Joe Reeder said: Manuel Noriega had 4 decoys (doubles)…they were good. They practiced his gait, his manner of speech and his modus operandi – what he did during the day and night."

Using a double is not a novelty, or something unusual. On April 19, 1945, the New York Times wrote, "He (The double) was supposed to be a total look-alike, and he was trained to be Hitler and was supposedly going to die a martyr's death…"
A top-secret military report based upon military interrogations proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that "Martin Bormann has selected at least one double for Adolf Hitler, and Minister of Propaganda of the Third Reich, Josef Goebbels has personally trained six doubles to impersonate Adolf Hitler."

The Double of Field Marshal Montgomery:
Monty had numerous certified doubles, to name a few:
1-Keith Deamer Banwell.
2-Edward Clifton James.
3-Miles Mander.

Meyrick Edward Clifton James on numerous occasions impersonated Montgomery. In 1954, Clifton James wrote a book under the title “I Was Monty’s Double” and was published in the United States as “The Counterfeit General Montgomery”.

The film tells the true story of Clifton James, a British actor who impersonated Field Marshal Montgomery in order to confuse the Germans in North Africa in 1944.

The real Montgomery.

“This is a photography of Monty's double, Lieutenant Clifton James, taken in Gibraltar in 1944. Lieutenant Clifton James really did double up as Montgomery on a number of occasions. It was very useful for Montgomery to be able to appear to an audience but also be working at the same time! James went to Gibraltar to help distract German attention from the Normandy landings, due only ten days later. In 1954 Clifton James published a book called "I was Monty's double". In 1958 it was made into a film and James actually played himself and Montgomery in the film!

War Office files show that Clifton James was actually third choice to play Monty. First was the actor Miles Mander, famous for a series of roles in Hollywood 'Three Musketeers' movies but MI5 discovered he was too tall. Their second choice broke his leg in a car accident in the middle of training. James was discovered working in an army pay office. The Double of Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill had his own political decoys, and some of his speeches during the war were done by an actor.
On October 29, 2000, Vanessa Thorpe, arts Correspondent of The Observer wrote: “Proof that some of Winston Churchill's most famous radio speeches of the war were delivered by a stand-in has emerged with the discovery of a 78rpm record.
The revelation ends years of controversy over claims - repeatedly denied - that an actor had been officially asked to impersonate the Prime Minister on air.
The record makes it clear for the first time that Norman Shelley's voice was used to broadcast some of the most important words in modern British history - including 'We shall fight them on the beaches'. It is marked 'BBC, Churchill: Speech. Artist Norman Shelley' and stamped 'September 7, 1942'. The recording will also help to sort out the confusion about the authenticity of many of the Churchill tapes in circulation.

Shelley, a well-known radio actor before his death in 1980, first claimed in the late Seventies that the British Council had confidentially asked him to stand in for Churchill. Biographers and historians have argued ever since about whether some of the key morale-boosting speeches of the era - including the 'We shall fight them on the beaches' Dunkirk speech of 4 June 1940 and the 'Their finest hour' speech of 18 June in the same year - could have been made by an actor.

Both speeches were originally delivered by Churchill in the House of Commons which, at that time, was not wired for sound recording. According to Shelley, Churchill was too busy to come into a studio to record his words and so agreed that, as long as he had final approval of the voice, an actor might take his place.

Later, the provenance of recordings of these speeches was further muddled by the fact that Churchill agreed to record some of his most memorable lines for the BBC archives after the war was over. Last week the late actor's son, Anthony Shelley, found the crucial record among his father's possessions in his home near Chepstow, South Wales.

He had always believed his father's story, he told The Observer, but is pleased to see him vindicated with some hard evidence. 'I knew my father was not the sort to have been pulling people's legs about something like this,' he said.

"There is absolutely no way he would have made this up, and a BBC recording would not exist unless they had intended to use it. The trouble is that, like a computer virus, once there is a recording out there that sounds right it will get around."

According to Shelley's great friend, former BBC radio and TV producer and presenter, Trevor Hill, Shelley did indeed stand in for Churchill on at least three occasions, specifically when Churchill was ill or out of the country.

This would never have been divulged at the time. Shelley's party piece, often requested apparently, was for everyone to close their eyes while he impersonated Churchill when, according to Hill, it was impossible to tell the difference.

From the BBC, Tuesday 11 September: 2007:

"Historical documentary series based on the memoirs of Walter Thompson who, as well as being Churchill's personal bodyguard for over 20 years, was the Prime Minister's close friend, confidant and companion.

The Germans become more determined to shoot down Churchill's aircraft. Walter foils one assassination attempt but the Prime Minister's double is not so lucky."

The Double of Stalin.

Joseph Stalin too had a double known to insiders as Rashid (Rash), real name: Felix Dadaev, who was trained by the Russian actor Alexei Dikkiy at the KGB's headquarters in Moscow. The double was used to replace Stalin in state and public functions.

Rashid died in 1991, at the age of 93.

In 2008, Alexei Dikkiy claimed that he was the principal "decoy of Stalin". He appeared on German Television and told his story as Stalin's double.

In his autobiography, he stated that Stalin had in fact 4 doubles, and some have appeared as Stalin in newsreels and official rallies.

Left: The real Stalin. Right: Felix Dadaev, Stalin's double.

The double of Boris Yeltsin:

According to Aleksandr Salii, a member of the Russian Duma, an unknown individual impersonated Boris Yeltsin on many occasions, and especially during and after the period of Yeltsin's open-heart surgery.

The double of President Harry S. Truman:

Edwin Wright who served under President Truman in various capacities has gone on the record with claims that an unknown person impersonated the voice of President Truman on the telephone on more than two occasions while talking to foreign ambassadors and delegates to the United Nations. This claim is documented by the archives of the Truman Presidential Library.

The double of Henry Kissinger:
According to a former aide to Secretary Kissinger, an unknown person impersonated Henry Kissinger during a secret visit he made to China in 1971.

The doubles of Saddam Hussein:
According to Jerald Post, the brain behind the CIA's Psychological Profile Unit, Saddam Hussein was quite often replaced with doubles he picked himself.

Thus, using a double, multiple doubles or a decoy is not a novelty or something unusual. Consequently, the possibility or veracity of Hitler's doubles is not unconceivable!
However, I did not propose this possibility based upon rhetoric and conspiracy's literature, for I have gathered tangible proofs, numerous pieces of evidence (Verbally and in writing), conducted a meticulous investigation, and above all, I talked to individuals who knew very well Hitler, such as Zarah Leander, Adolf Hitler's friend and favorite singer, and the legendary Leni Riefenstahl.

CHAPTER I
Official statements about Hitler's doubles.

SS General Johann (Hans) Rattemhuber:
Head of Hitler's personal bodyguard from 1933 to 1945. Captured by the Russians in 1945, made prisoner, but was released in September 1955. He died in 1957.
From what he told the Russians during the Russian NKVD interrogations:
Rattemhuber: "Yes, the Fuhrer would occasionally use a double in some rallies.
I never met any of his doubles, but I was informed."
-NKVD military interrogator: Who was in charge of this comedy?
Rattemhuber: Borman…

As soon as Adolf Hitler left the garden of the Chancellery on April 22,1945 and being greeted by the Fuehrer for the last time in the presence of General Muller and Adolf Hitler's valet Heinz Linge, General Johann Rattemhuber said to General Mueller, "The Fuehrer is gone…and we have a new Fuehrer now…"

Heinz Linge replied, "I am going to miss my Fuehrer, he is gone forever, I know I will never see him again." General Mueller said, "We have a lot of work to do now…"-From the Russian interrogations of SS General Johann (Hans), and personal statement of General Mueller.

General Heinrich Mueller (Müller):

General Mueller told his interrogators: "Hitler was replaced by a New Hitler. Hitler left Berlin…quite alive…and we had a double in the bunker…"

From the Russian interrogations of General Johann (Hans), and personal statement of General Mueller.

According to Mueller, On April 22, 1945, around 8.50 PM, "Adolf Hitler left the garden of the Chancellery from the rear door, got out of the bunker and flew aboard a helicopter, type Focke Achgelis FA 223, en route to Hoerching airfield, Austria. And from Hoerching, he boarded an airplane type JU 290A en route to Barcelona on April 26, around 8.00 PM. The airplane landed in Barcelona on April 27, 1945. He added, "I learned from Admiral Doenitz that Hitler arrived safely to Spain."

German helicopter, Focke Achgelis, type FA 223.

According to General Muller, Dr. Josef Goebbels trained Hitler's double for an extended period of time. With the help of a cinema director from UFA, Dr. Goebbels gave the doubles lessons and extensive training on Hitler's mannerism, voice, and demeanor, with a strong emphasis on how to walk, how to answer questions and how to avoid answering questions. Two out of five doubles were finally chosen by Goebbels.

Eva Braun's double.
Eva Braun's double was not so difficult to find and train. General Muller said, "Goebbels was having lots of fun training this wanna-be an actress. She was attractive but not beautiful. And she had to be stupid. Eva Braun was not a bright woman…"

Muller added, "Goebbels had already decided what to do with the doubles, after the escape of Hitler. I did not approve. But he was in charge. Yes, I did talk to Hitler in the Chancellery's garden about the fate of his double, he laughed and said, this would confuse Stalin…It was not my idea to eliminate the doubles. Dr. Goebbels insisted that all the doubles must die including those we did not use. Borman approved. Goebbels was concerned with two things, the faces and the teeth of the doubles.
He wanted everything to be perfect and remove any suspicions from the heads of the Russians.
He knew the Russians will try to identify the dead bodies from dental records, so he decided to fake dental records, replace some records with other records he could obtain from SS military clinics…even break apart their spines, exactly where the spine of Hitler was broken when he was injured in World War One."

Muller continues, "We did not tell the doubles that they will be sacrificed. We just told them it is a temporary assignment, and they had nothing to fear at all. And they believed us…one minor problem was left to be solved; the height of the doubles. Goebbels said, let's work now on one double, he meant Weller, Gustave Weller. Heinz Linge took the measurement of his height. He was five centimeters shorter than Hitler.
So, we decided to give him built-up shoes to compensate for the difference in height. The built-in high heels were made from ceramics. Then Bormann said that Weller needed a minor plastic surgery on his ears, nose and lower lip.

So, we brought in Dr. Zeitfeld, a plastic surgeon to see what he can do…He did a magnificent job. It took him only 4 weeks to create an almost perfect double. Short after, Bormann sent his men to kill Zeitfeld and burn his clinic.
The statements of General Muller were not always consistent. For example, in one of his testimonies, General Muller said that it was him who found Hitler's double and not Dr. Goebbels. He stated verbatim, "I found him (Hitler's double) in mid-1941.
He was a SA's member…and loyal. He did look like Hitler but was shorter…and his ears were different from Hitler's ears…"
This statement seems to corroborate what Leni Riefenstahl told me about Hitler's ears. Please refer to my interview with Leni.
General Mueller also told his interrogators: "The new Hitler (The double) was drugged by Dr. Haase, and fully controlled by Goebbels and Bormann."

Zarah Leander

Leni Riefenstahl

Zarah Leander.

Zarah Leander, Adolf Hitler's friend and favorite singer, told me verbatim, "Yes, Hitler had doubles, and Eva Braun had her double too, no question about it. But I don't think Eva's double was a success. Geobbels changed his mind about her (Eva's Braun), despite the fact that she looked exactly like Eva Braun. Why? I don't know…"

Leni Riefenstahl.

-"Yes. I am sure now. Adolf Hitler used a double."

Note: Refer to my interview with Leni, in Chapter IV.

SS guard Hans Hofbeck stated that Hans Baur, Hitler's personal pilot, told him while he was in Russian captivity, that a man from Breslau was used as a double for Hitler, and he looked very much like Hitler.

General Heinrich Mueller told the Russian interrogators that the double of Hitler lived and worked in Breslau.

Interrogator: Did Hilter escape from the bunker or kill himself?
General Weidling: I was told that the Fuehrer took poison on April 30, 1945.
Interrogator: Who told you that?
General Weidling: On the evening of April 30, 1945, I went to the Reich Chancellery. Krebs, Goebbels and Bormann told me about it.
Interrogator: Did you see the body of Adolf Hitler?
General Weidling: No.
Interrogator: Is it possible that the man who took poison in the bunker was not Adolf Hitler?
General Weidling: I have no way of knowing.

Interrogator: Is it possible that the man who killed himself in the bunker was the double of Adolf Hitler?
General Weidling: I don't know.
I did not see the body.
Interrogator: Why didn't you?
Didn't you ask to see the body?
General Weidling: I asked Dr. Goebbels if I could see the body of the Fuehrer and pay my last respects. And he said the body was no longer in the bunker…and not to be seen as ordered by the Fuehrer himself. Krebs said that this was exactly the Fuehrer's order.
Interrogator: I am going to ask you again, is it possible that the man who killed himself in the bunker was the double of Adolf Hitler?

General Weidling: I heard rumours about the Fuehrer's double.
Interrogator: What did you hear exactly?
General Weidling: That the Fuehrer has left the bunker and the person who committed suicide was not Hitler.
Interrogator: Meaning a Hitler's double?
General Weidling: Meaning he was not the Fuehrer.
Interrogator: Meaning a Hitler's double?
General Weidling: Yes.

Statement of Constanze Manziarly:
At one time during the staged and bogus reception of Hitler's wedding in the bunker, Constanze Manziarly the vegetarian and special diet cook of Hitler who prepared his meals since 1943, questioned the physical looks of her boss. "Oh perhaps the events and what he was going through had something to do with the way he looked…He didn't behave or talk the way he usually does…" said Manziarly.
She asked the "fake" Fuehrer if she should serve him tomorrow endives or Belgian sprout, because she ran out of his favorite vegetables, and "He did not know what I was talking about.

He said fine fine. The Fuehrer never used these words fine fine before. He was always very precise and told me exactly what to cook for him…" added Manziarly.

General William Donovan.

In a 1945 secret memo, General William Donovan, then head of the OSS, mentioned the existence of two possible doubles of Hitler.

Those two doubles were in fact carefully selected and trained by Josef Goebbels, back in 1944. The doubles received an extensive training on diction and Hitler's mannerism.

Worth mentioning here that General Donovan, then, head of the OSS (Office of Strategic Services), which functioned as the first US intelligence and counter-espionage agency (Precursor of the CIA) did not know much about Adolf Hitler.

General William Donovan, head of the OSS.

In fact, General Donovan met Hitler in person at Berchtesgaden, and spent an "interesting evening" with Hitler in his private room at the "Pension Moritz", and had no clues who Adolf Hitler was, but one year later, he said publicly, "I did not recognize him, I did not know who he (Hitler) was, but surely he had a strong presence and was a fascinating talker."

The FFL:

In October 1944, The FFL and the French Resistance in Lyon received information from one of their spies operating in Berlin, a French-Polish woman (Code-name Justine; real name Eva Kawalkowski) containing a reference made to a Hitler's double, who was chosen by Josef Goebbels, and was trained by a German cinema director from UFA. This was confirmed to me by Jean Gabin.

The Daily Express:

In November 1944, the Daily Express published photographs of "Adolf Hitler past and present". The newspaper stated that the "present Hitler" was not the real Hitler. The Daily express pointed out that Hitler's ears of the new Hitler (Double) are very different from the ears of the past Hitler (The real one).

According to Time magazine, Heinrich Bergner was Hitler's double. Bergner was killed in July, 1944 by a bomb which exploded under Hitler's table, during Valkery's attempt to kill Hitler.
In 1935, Time magazine wrote: " Adolf Hitler last week became the first Dictator frankly to employ a double."

Hitler had four identified doubles according to hearsay, rumors, articles in the Russian newspapers, whistleblowers, and finally quasi-official military reports. Those doubles were:

- 1-Gustav Weber, aka Gustav Weller (Unknown figure)

- 2-Andreas Kronstadt (An actor)
- 3-Julius Schreck. Hitler's driver who died in 1936 in a traffic accident
- 4- Heinrich Bergner

Simone Signoret.

In 1971, Simone Signoret told me that she learned from Marlene Dietrich while she was in Paris in the company of Jean Gabin that a minor actress from Berlin was chosen by Josef Goebbels to impersonate Eva Braun; she knew who she was but would not give her name to Simone.

Marlene Dietrich.

Dietrich also told Simone that 2 doubles for Hitler were chosen by Josef Goebbels and were trained by a movie director from Düsseldorf.

Marlene Dietrich reported this to FBI office in Los Angeles, despite the fact that she hated J. Edgar Hoover, then Director of the FBI who compiled an enormous file on her life, her activities, her friends, and especially on her lover, French actor Jean Gabin.

None of the old guard could see Hitler after April 22, 1945

After April 22, 1945, Hitler's double met with German generals after the real Adolf Hitler escaped from the bunker, like General Weilding, General Reiman and others senior officers.
So how come they did not recognize the true identity of the double on the spot, if he was in fact so different from the real Hitler? Why didn't they?
Because they have not met Hitler in person before in such a gloomy condition. They did not know him very well. They never had a close tête-à-tête with Hitler.
Now, all those who knew Hitler very well were not allowed by Martin Bormann and Dr. Josef Goebbels to see Hitler after April 22, 1945.
Why?
Because de facto, they would/could have noticed the enormous differences between the two men on so many levels, and undoubtfully will come to the conclusion that the man they are talking to is not their Fuehrer.

Albert Speer with Hitler.

Albert Speer tried twice to talk to Hitler after April 22, 1945, and each time Martin Bormann would tell him, "The Fuehrer is resting and can't be disturbed", or "The Fuehrer is sleeping."

Bormann knew very well that Albert Speers would recognize and identify immediately the bogus Hitler.
After the war, Speers said, "I couldn't understand why Hitler would not see me anymore…I began to wonder if he has lost faith in me.
On two occasions, I wanted to talk to Hitler about urgent matters, and each time Martin Bormann would come up with absurd and incomprehensible reasons to prevent me from seeing Hitler…"

Chapter III
Major differences between the Real Hitler and his double after April 22, 1945 and 'til April 30, 1945.

To name a few:

Difference #1: Hitler always got up around noon, between 11:50 and 12:15, because he worked almost all night long, and went to bed between 3:30 AM and 4:00 AM.

Left: SS General Felix General Steiner. Right: Steiner and Hitler.

After April 22, 1945, Hitler's double went to bed early and woke up around 7.00 AM.

Difference #2. Several occupants of the bunker and especially Traudl Junge, stated that "although Hitler was very tired and “politely emotional”, he remained alert and very attentive.

His mental capacities were intact, and his physical abilities were not deteriorated.
He remained reasonably strong, and had impeccable attire, always clean and proper. He spoke to his generals with authority and issued clear and precise orders.
Hitler’s mannerism and dominant features/characteristics as a leader and a military strategist did not diminish.”
In fact, Hitler kept on issuing clear and very precise orders until April 21, 1945; this was the day when he appointed SS General Felix General Steiner, head of the 4th SS Police Division, and Commander of the 25th Panzer Grenadier Division, and ordered him to mount an immediate counter attack against the advancing Red Army.

General Weilding surrendering to the Russians.

The “Hitler” after April 22, 1945 appeared hesitant, physically weak, sick, and a wreck.
On April 24, 1945, General Helmuth Otto Ludwig Weidling met the “New Hitler” in the bunker and was chagrined and shocked by his appearance and demeanor.
He told Lew Slavin, a Russian war correspondent, that Adolf Hitler’s speech was confusing and indistinguishable. General Weilding said verbatim: “He (Adolf Hitler) was a human wreck, his head was shaking, and his hands constantly trembling…"

Dr. Ernst Gunther Schenck who knew Adolf Hitler extremely well, being one of his private physicians, said about the "New Hitler" (The Double) after April 22, 1945, "Definitely he (Hitler's double) was not the Fuehrer I knew.
I was looking at a very different man. He did not have the Fuehrer's powerful eyes, strong personality and captivating persona…that man was a mess…"

Difference #3. According to both Dr. Ernst Gunther Schenck, and General Heinrich Mueller, Adolf Hitler's glasses had a nickel rim, while the glasses of the double (New Hitler) after April 22, 1945, were steel rimmed.

Difference #4. General Heinrich Mueller told his interrogators: "The new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945 was drugged by Lt. Colonel Dr. Werner Haase, and fully controlled by Dr. Josef Goebbels and Martin Bormann.

He (The double of Adolf Hitler) after April 22, 1945 was conspicuously calm, almost sedated and hypnotized to a degree that he could no longer think, feel or act like a reasonable or a free person…which is in sharp contrast with the Hitler I knew; a leader with an extraordinary powerful presence which reflected magnetism and absolute authority.

The New Hitler could no longer think for himself and by himself. He has become the puppet of Goebbels…he lost his freedom and was not allowed to mingle with others or to talk to anybody in the bunker. He was constantly confined to his room and seen only once or twice while taking his meal. However, he did dictate a bogus last will to Traudl Junge who apparently did not recognize him or perhaps she did but covered up the act out of her loyalty to Adolf Hitler. Dr. Haase died in captivity in 1950.

Difference #5. Adolf Hitler always took his daily breakfast around 12:20. His double (The new Hitler) after April 22, 1945, took his breakfast between 8:200 AM and 8:30 AM.

Difference #6. Adolf Hitler always maintained impeccable and spotless uniforms. His double's uniform (The only one he got from Dr. Josef Goebbels) after April 22, 1945 was dirty, messy and his suit was stained by food.

Difference #7. For his meals, Adolf Hitler was always served with three different dishes, while his double after April 22, 1945, was offered one single dish and a glass of milk.

Difference #8. Adolf Hitler did not smoke. According to Dr. Ernst Gunther Schenck, he saw the new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945, smoking once in Hitler's room. (Highly contested)

Difference #9. Hitler always dined or ate with Eva Braun.
The new Hitler after April 22, 1945, ate alone; not even in the company of the double of Eva Braun.

Difference #10. The food of Adolf Hitler was always prepared by his personal cook/dietician, even during his last days in the bunker, as per his strict and personal order. The food of the new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945, was prepared and served by Heinz Linge.

Difference #11. Adolf Hitler, always held lengthy meetings and conferences with his generals. The new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945, held short and very brief meetings with German generals.

Difference #12. Adolf Hitler, on a daily basis, walked for 30 or 35 minutes in the Chancellery's garden. The new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945, never took a walk (even for a few minutes) in the Chancellery' garden. He never left the bunker.

Difference #13. Hitler, always, held his military meetings and conferences late in the evening, and in numerous instances between midnight and 1:00/1:30 AM. The new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945 conferred with German generals and commanders, exclusively in the afternoon.

Difference #14. Hitler's major military orders were precise, verbally and in writing. The new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945, orders and nominations were issued by Martin Bormann and Dr. Josef Goebbels without the knowledge of Hitler, even though, were (Falsely) issued in the name of Adolf Hitler.

Difference #15. Adolf Hitler was extremely attached to his dog Blondi, and quite often, he would ask his aides and secretaries about Blondi and made sure that the dog is well-fed and taken care of. The new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945, never asked a single question about Blondi; in other words, he did not give a damn about the dog.

Difference #16. The bed sheets (linen) of Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun were cleaned and changed at least six times a week. The bed sheets (linen) of the new Hitler (The double) after April 22, 1945, were never changed or cleaned between that date and April 30, 1945.

Hitler's housekeeper (At Munich Prinzregentenplatz apartment in 1930), Anni Winter testified that Hitler was very hygienic and very particular about the cleanness of his personal items, clothes, linens and especially his bed sheets.

She said, "His bed sheets were cleaned and changed every single day…he treated me with kindness and was very generous with me. He even autographed a photo for me…"

Anni Winter: "Hitler was extremely clean. His apartment was immaculate, simple but spotless and functional. I kept it clean all the time. I changed his linen every single day…and the kitchen smelled good…Hitler was vegetarian, generous and never collected anything of a materialistic value.
He was not materialistic at all.
He was a simple gentleman, not flamboyant like his generals, particularly Goering…"

Hitler’s apartment.

Difference #17. At one time, during the staged and bogus reception of Hitler's wedding in the bunker, Constanze Manziarly the vegetarian and special diet cook of Hitler who prepared his meals since 1943, questioned the physical looks of her boss.
"Oh, perhaps the events and what he was going through had something to do with the way he looked…He didn't behave or talk the way he usually does…" said Manziarly. She asked the "fake" Fuehrer if she should serve him tomorrow endives or Belgian sprout, because she ran out of his favorite vegetables, and "He did not know what I was talking about. He said fine fine. The Fuehrer never used these words fine fine before.
He was always very precise and told me exactly what to cook for him…" added Manziarly.
This is very expected from a fake Hitler, who did not know a thing about the real Hitler's strict diet and favorite food.

Difference #18. On or after April 22, 1945, the new Hitler and Eva Braun never shared again the same bed.

Chapter IV

My interview with Leni Riefenstahl

Leni Riefenstahl with Adolf Hitler.

In January 1972 in München, I had a long chat with Leni Riefenstahl (Helene Berta Amalie). We spoke about so many things; the Third Reich in general, and Hitler, Eva Braun, Josef Goebbels, his wife Magda and the rumors surrounding the escape of Hitler, and of course her "Triumph des Willens", and her two favorite films "Das Blaue Licht", and "Die weiße Hölle vom Piz Palü" a film she co-directed with G W Pabst.
And what she told me was mind-bending. For instance:

a-Hitler had a lot of respect for women.

He thought women were more creative than men on an artistic level. Adolf Hitler admired few people in his life, mostly women… Zarah Leander, he called her the "Divine Zarah", which made Josef Goebbels a little bit jealous…Hitler had a very special affection for Magda Goebbels who thought of her as the "Most perfect German woman", Eva (Eva Braun) of course, Hanna Reitsch, Princess Stephanie Marie von Hohenlohe's (She was Jewish), who gave her so many gifts and a castle…and me (Leni) to a certain degree.

b-Josef Goebbels was not a "pure Aryan"; he was a half-Jew.

c-Hitler himself had something Jewish in him…in his blood, and he created a new family tree to hide that secret that haunted him all his life. His nephew, William Patrick Hitler knew about it and he was constantly blackmailing him.

d-Hitler and Eva did not die in the bunker in Berlin; they escape with Martin Bormann, two days before the Russians entered the bunker. I know that for sure. I don't know all the details, nobody does. (My note: Bormann did not escape with Hitler.)

Leni, the actress.

Hitler with Dr. Josef Goebbels “The Intellectual Clown” as he has been called by Leni Riefenstahl.

Excerpts from my interview with Leni:

Leni: Traudl Junge was in the bunker, but she saw nothing.

-Do you believe what Traudl Junge has said about the suicide of Hitler?
Leni: She is an opportunist and a liar. She saw nothing.
-But she was in the bunker with Hitler.
Leni: She was in the bunker, I know that, but she saw nothing. When the gun-shot was heard, and I don't believe that either, Junge was probably typing something in her room…far from Hitler and Eva's room. She said it herself, "I did not hear a shot, and I did not see the Fuhrer's body." Linge told her that Hitler committed suicide.
Besides how could anybody hear a shot coming from Hitler room when the room is sound-proof? It is impossible.
-You had some sort of a heated discussion with Traudl Junge…
(Interrupted)
Leni: She wanted to write her memoirs…a book. She asked me if I could contribute something to the book, some stories or what I have talked about with Hitler and Goebbels.
I told her I am not interested.
And one thing led to other thing, and we ended shouting at each other. I think yes you could call it a heated talk, but she started it, not me. You see I don't want to be part of any of this. I rather focus on what I am going to do next…in my life.
-Like what for instance?
Leni: Documentaries, may be a series of a few photo-albums, something like that. Let me tell you something. No one, nobody who is still alive will ever dare to tell the truth. Some tried and were killed. I can assure you that almost 90% of what it has been said about the war is either grossly fabricated or false. After all, who writes history books? The winners, the victorious, not the losers, not the defeated.
Leni: Did you talk to her?
-I did.

Leni: So what do you think?
-Think about what?
Leni: Traudl Junge.
-I don't know Leni. It is too early. So 90% is false! Hitler's suicide was staged. Stories about Hitler and especially his psychological profile is nonsense, as you have once said. Do you mean what was said about Hitler, and his cruelty was not true?
Leni: You are putting words in my mouth.
She added, If the American government was either misled or intended on spreading false information about Hitler, then I am not surprised at all that they didn't know a thing about his escape and the remaining years he spent in Argentina.
I must admit, few in America knew about Hitler's escape, most certainly generals who were from the high military hierarchy, but they kept their mouths shut…they were desperate to acquire German technology.

The fuhrerbunker

Leni Riefenstahl with Josef Goebbels at the Berlin Olympics.

The "Double" scenario started with Goebbels.

Goebbels created a special department on American films which were considered to be either pro-Jewish or anti-Jewish. He asked me to help him in selecting some of those films and I refused.
I told him I am a filmmaker and not a film historian.
Then he asked me if I would go to America and meet with cinema directors in Hollywood and find out what kind of films they were making about Hitler and Germany. And I said no.
Finally, Georg Gyssling (Germany's Consul in Los Angeles) was chosen to do that. Gyssling would choose American films and send them to Goebbels.
You know, Goebbels was in charge of German cinema during the Third Reich and he knew lots of actresses, but he did not show any interest in men actors…and one question will lead to another question. He also asked me about what was special about Hitler's face? Did I like his mustaches?

Did I like his facial expressions? Was Adolf Hitler over acting or seems to act dramatically while delivering his speeches?
And finally, he asked me if with my cinema techniques I can duplicate his face, meaning using cinema maquillage (make-up) on somebody to make him look like Hitler?
I was very surprised to hear this kind of questions, and especially when he asked me whether I could make a person look like Adolf Hitler!

Very candidly, I asked him if he was planning on producing a special documentary on Adolf Hitler, or was he thinking about presenting a stage play, in which a person should look like Adolf Hitler. And he said yes. And I believed him.
Then he asked him if among the extras I used in my films, if there is a person who could act very well and look like Hitler…to a certain degree? I said no. Then he asked if I knew any actress who looked like Eva Braun?
And I said no.
But without thinking or having any suspicions I said to him, Eva Braun's face is not difficult to duplicate. With a professional cinema or stage maquillage (make-up) I can make an actress look like Eva Braun. He smiled and said excellent.
I asked him who is writing the scenario (The script) and the play, and he replied: "Me! I want to surprise the Fuhrer. It is going to be a good surprise. Don't tell anybody. It is a secret.
You promise?"
And I replied of course. Before leaving, I asked if I could read the script, in case if he is considering me to be the director of the film.

And he replied, “I will let you know. But remember, it is a secret. Do not spoil the surprise.” He never called me again.
And I totally forgot about the whole thing, until I was arrested and interrogated by the Americans and was asked during hideous and never-ending interrogatories whether Hitler used a double or not.
And suddenly something back-flashed in my head! Something hit me. And I knew what it was!!!
And in seconds, I remembered all the questions Goebbels have asked me…just like that….and especially his questions about face maquillage, and how to make a person look like Adolf Hitler. I will never forget that moment.

The military interrogator asked me again, “Did Adolf Hitler use a double?” I think they repeated the same question twice or three times. But I was somewhere else. Then he shouted at me: “ANSWER THE QUESTION!!” And I replied, “I don’t know.”

Georg Gyssling, Germany's Consul in Los Angeles with Leni Riefenstahl.

A tall strong man with short hair a la brosse, who looked like a savage wrestler approached me and said loudly, “You better tell us the truth!”
And I said with a very low voice, “I am not sure, I haven’t seen a double of Hitler.” He screamed and said, “What do you mean you are not sure?” And I replied, “I told you the truth. I am not sure. I don’t know!”
It was a nightmare. Questions after questions after questions, non-stop! I think I fainted.
-And now after all these years, and what you have heard and read about Hitler’s double or doubles, have you changed your mind?
Leni: Yes. I am sure now. Adolf Hitler used a double.
-Leni, please look at these two picture (Below). Tell me, is this man Adolf Hitler or his double?

Leni (After looking at the photograph below for less than five seconds) said: This is NOT Adolf Hitler!!

A fake Hitler.

The double of Adolf Hitler decorates members of Hitler's Nazi youth organization "Hitler Jugend" outside the Chancellery Bunker in Berlin, on April 25, 1945.

-A double then?
Leni: Yes! Definitely a double…..Oh my God… he looks exactly like him…but I can tell…he is not Adolf Hitler…
-How can you tell?

Leni: First, the ears…these are not the ears of Adolf Hitler.
Second, the smile, this is not the smile of Hitler…The upper lip… no...no…this is not Adolf Hitler. A very good replica…a very convincing double!
I took more than 3,000 shots of Adolf Hitler from all angles. I know very well the face of Adolf Hitler. Wait a minute…wait a minute, I saw this picture in a newsreel.
I remember now…it is really amazing.
-And how about this photograph (Below), Leni?
Is this man Adolf Hitler?
Leni: No! His double! I know every inch of the face of Hitler.
I coached him for my film "Triumph des Willens".
I directed him, and I created and shot special scenes to fit the dramatic expressions of his face. And I can tell you, this man in this photograph is not Adolf Hitler. This man is the double of Hitler.
-And this man (Photos below #1, #2)...is he Adolf Hitler?
Leni: Another double.

Another picture of Hitler's double.

-Are you telling me you never knew that Hitler had a double or suspected anything about that?
Leni: I did not know. But I suspected something.
I don't think anybody knew back then, except of course Goebbels, Muller (General Muller) and Bormann, and the maquillage artist.
Is this man (Pointing the photo; photo #2) still alive.
-He was shot in the head…Murdered. Assassinated!
Leni: Who shot him in the head?
-We don't know. No witnesses. But many are pointing the finger at Martin Bormann.
Leni: "I know every inch of the face of Hitler. And I can tell you this man in this photograph is not Adolf Hitler. This man is the double of Hitler."

Leni: Are you writing a book on the Third Reich?
-No, I am not working on a book. But perhaps I might… one of those days…years from now.
Leni: Be careful. Don't ever dare to say anything positive about Adolf Hitler…no more comments.
-Why should I say anything good about Adolf Hitler? Some of my parents were killed by the SS!!
Leni: And if you decide to write a book and publish it soon, I want to read everything you wrote about me before you print the book. Do you understand? I want to read and approve each word you wrote, please. Tell the truth. Don't exaggerate.
Don't dramatize things. And don't misquote me and don't tell lies. I am not Max Schmelling but I will punch you in the face as hard as I can (Smiling).

And our meeting ended on this note…
We hugged each other, and I left. And I knew I will never have another chance to talk to Leni Riefenstahl. I felt I will never see her again. Was this exceptional woman unfairly treated by the media and her accusers? Did she tell the truth, the whole truth? I don't know. Probably I will never know.
But when Leni's eyes were soaked in tears, and leaned toward me and said, "I have been victimized…I made lots of mistakes in my life, but I was never a Nazi, I never joined the party…. lived only for my art." When she said that, I knew she was telling the truth. And I believed her. Leni Riefenstahl died in Berlin in 2003, at the age of 101.

Chapter V
A CHAT WITH TRAUDL JUNGE

Traudl Junge with Nazi officers in Berlin. Far right: Erich Kempka. Nee Gertraud Humps, March 16, 1920-February 10, 2002, Traudle Junge was the private secretary of Adolf Hitler from November 1942 to April 1945).

In the presence of an old friend of mine who worked as a reporter for Corriere della Sera, and who had a privileged access to the Vatican, I asked Traudl Junge the following questions:
-Is it true, you typed the last dictated will of Adolf Hitler?
Junge: Yes I did.
-Was Hitler in a good state of mind when he dictated to you his last will?
Junge: Not totally, I mean he was very emotional, but perfectly alert.
Perhaps not as articulate as he used to be. But he knew perfectly what he was talking about. He had everything written down on 2 pieces of paper. He dictated…and I typed everything he said.

Junge: Hitler was always spontaneous and fast.

-Didn't you find something odd about this?
Junge: What do you mean? I don't understand.
-You just told me that he was dictating to you from an already written document…two papers you said. Did he ever before dictate anything to you from something he already wrote down?
Perhaps, some sort of a prepared statement for instance.
Junge (Pausing and thinking): No.
You are right. No, he didn't.
He was always spontaneous and fast, nothing was pre-prepared, or written down. He didn't need to.
-So why this time he did it differently?
Junge: Because it was an exceptionally important document. It was his last will. Don't you think so?
-I do. I understand. Did you notice something unusual about him while dictating his last will?
Junge: He was a little bit confused, and he was reading very slowly. No, I should not say confused…he was rather tired, and he seemed to me as if he was reading something he did not put all his thoughts and brilliant mind in it…he was reading the papers with some difficulty. You have to understand everybody in the bunker was in state of fear and shock.

-Didn't Josef Goebbels interrupt Adolf Hitler while he was dictating to you, every time Hitler seemed to read the pre-written pages with some difficulty?
Junge: Yes. Once or twice.
-Did Josef Goebbels ever interrupt Hitler before?
Junge: Nobody did. Nobody would dare.
-So how come Goebbels did this time?
Junge: I don't know.
-Was Martin Bormann present in the room when Hitler was dictating to you?
Junge: Yes.
-Did he make any comment? Did he say anything to you?
Junge: No, but he did add some remarks…notes…
-Does Hitler usually dictate to you from written notes?
Junge: No. He never did. He hated notes.
-Didn't you find it odd that he was dictating to you his will from notes?
Junge: Yes and no.
-How could you work for a man who murdered millions of people, and I am not talking only about Jews, and…
Junge (Interrupting): Adolf Hitler never talked to me about Jews. It was none of my business. I was simply a secretary.
-But you did know about his mass slaughters?
Junge: Only after the war. And believe me I felt so guilty even though I was not part of it.

From what she said about Hitler's gunshot:

“While playing with the Goebbels children on 30 April, suddenly there is the sound of a shot, so loud, so close, that we all fall silent. It echoes on through all the rooms. 'That was a direct hit,' cried Helmut with no idea how right he is.
The Führer is dead now."

CHAPTER VI

My interview with Zarah Leander, the Diva of the Third Reich

Zarah Leander

Q: Many still ask how come you survived the Holocaust, being a Jewish woman?
Zarah: My grandparents were. I never practiced any religion.
Q: Is it because you were Hitler's favorite star?
Zarah: This too.
Q: How did Hitler know about you? I assume from your movies, being the greatest star of German cinema?

Zarah: Before that. He saw some of my stage performances in Vienna.
Q: Is it true that your enormous success was catapulted by the Nazis and especially because Hitler was very fond of you?
Goebbels did mention this on many occasions.

Zarah: I did not only perform for the Nazis.
I was an artist who performed for people from All Europe.

And Goebbels had nothing to do with my success and fame.
In fact, he was jealous of all the successful stars, artists and filmakers in Germany, including Leni Riefenstahl.
Q: But Goebbels financed many of your movies.
Zarah: Untrue. In fact he did not like me at all, because I was not German. He gave me hard time.
Q: Then Hitler interfered and put him in his place, right?
Hitler called you the Diva of the Third Reich.
Zarah: You can say that.
Q: Hilter was your ultimate hero, correct?
Zarah: At the beginning, at the very beginning, yes.
Q: How did you feel when you heard about his suicide?
Zarah: Suicide? No…no… he was not a coward.
Q: What do you mean?

Hitler with Franco.

Zarah Leander: Hitler did not commit suicide.

Zarah: He did not commit suicide. I can assure that.
Q: He escaped?
(Interrupted)
Zarah: I would not say “escaped”…he had to do what he had to do…he had to leave Germany because he knew what the Russians would do to him if they caught him.

Q: Where did he go?
Zarah: I am not sure.
Q: Any idea?
Zarah: I don't know…I heard lots of stories.
Q: Like what?
Zarah: Well, some have said that Franco helped him…I mean he offered him hospitality after he left Germany. And of course Peron and his wife Eva were also very helpful.
Q: How did he get out of Germany?

Zarah: Again…I am not sure. I heard that Martin Borman and Hanna Reitsch had something to do with it.
Q: What was the role of Hanna Reitsch?
How did she help Hitler?
Zarah: She was a pilot you know, a very experienced and famous pilot, and a test-pilot too. I heard that she flew him to a secret base near Sweden or Denmark…
I don't know the precise location, but somewhere in the Baltic Sea.

Q: And…
Zarah: And…Hitler flew to Spain.
Q: With Hanna Reitsch?
Zarah: No.
Q: So Hitler survived?
Zarah: Apparently.
Q: What else do you know?
Zarah: That's all…nothing else.
Q: Have you ever talked to Leni Riefenstahl or Hanna Reitsch about Hitler's escape?
Zarah: No.
Q: Does Leni Riefenstahl know what you know?
Zarah: Ask her…

CHAPTER VII
My interview with Simone Signoret

(Former member of the French Resistance)

Simone Signoret

Simone Signoret: Hitler had at least 5 doubles… 4 Germans and one Austrian.

In 1975, I had a chat with Simone Signoret about Hitler's double and his escape to Argentina.
Here is part of what we talked about.
-Did you know Hitler had a double?
-He had many doubles.
-German doubles?

German soldiers flirting with French women near le Moulin Rouge, where some of France's greatest stars entertained the Nazis.

-At least 5 Germans and one Austrian.
-How did you know?
-People in the cinema and entertainment business talked about it… of course secretly.
-Why secretly?

Signoret: Goebbels trained at least 4 doubles for Hitler and two women as doubles for Eva Braun.

-Well…because they were still performing in boites (Cabarets, nightclubs) in Paris - and some we thought were collaborators -So they could not talk about it openly because they didn't want to be arrested by the Gestapo or lose their jobs.
-You mean people like Charles Trenet?
-No no no…I can't name names…you understand.
-So entertainers and singers talked about Hitler's doubles.
-Yes…they surely did. Besides, a few artists from Germany who briefly performed in Paris knew about it, and I talked to some of them. Sometimes they denied it, and some other times they would say yes.
I remember one German actress who told me that Goebbles trained at least 4 doubles for Hitler and two women as doubles for Eva Braun.
-Do you know their names?
-You mean the women?
-Women and men.
-Women…no. But there is one, I think…she was a new ingénue and Goebbels' mistress…originally from Baden Baden. She got the gig. Little did she know that one day she will be drugged and killed by Goebbles' people.

-Did she?
-What do you mean?
-Was she drugged and killed?
-Yes.
-And Hitler's doubles, did you know who were those doubles?
-By name? No.
But I knew about them from La Resistance (French Resistance) and our agents in Poland.
-That's right, you had strong connection there.
-Not really. My parents were Jewish. My father was from Poland, and my mother from Austria. I took my mother's name because I did not want the Gestapo to know about my Jewish background.
-You did join the resistance after all.
-Yes I did. This is how I knew about Hitler's double.
-How did the resistance know about Hitler's double.
-Well…from some Germans who worked in Paris, and mainly from Henri Dericourt. You should talk about this to Jean Gabin…
-Henri Dericourt was a double agent, maybe a triple agent. He worked for the resistance, for the British and the Nazis…he was associated with Karl Baumelburg, the head of counter sabotage in France, right?
-There are lots of talks and rumours about Dericourt.
Who knows?
-Dericourt was arrested in France in November 1946.
-Yes, but he was acquitted.
-There is also Georges Pichard who knew about Hitler's double. You should talk to Jean Gabin.

Left: Henri Dericourt

-Did the French resistance kill Dericourt?
-I can't answer this question. I don't know.
I heard that his pairplane crashed in Laos in 1962 and he died.
-How about Hitler's escape? Did he escape to Argentina?
-Israel secret service believes so.
They are sure he escaped to Argentina. They even tried to kidnap him, but unfortunately, they could not get to him.
Hitler was well protected and kept on moving from one place to another.
-You reported directly to Charles de Gaulle…
-Sometimes.
-What did Charles de Gaulle think about the possibility of Hitler's escape?
-He didn't say much.
But on one occasion, he let me know that Hitler was still alive.

CHAPTER VIII
Official Statements: Hitler Did Not Commit Suicide

The Allies, including President Eisenhower, Winston Churchill and Stalin never confirmed that Hitler killed himself in the bunker. In fact, Stalin and the FBI were fully convinced that Hitler escaped from Germany to Argentina, since his dead body was never found. Official military reports coming from the camp of Stalin, the NKVD, OSS, and American reporters in Berlin confirmed that the assumed dead body of Hitler found and photographed by officers from the Red Army belonged to one of Hitler's doubles. The dead man was identified as Gustave Weber (aka Gustav Weller), one of Hitler's 4 doubles.

Field Marshal Gred von Rundstedt:
Field Marshal Gred von Rundstedt said publicly, “Suicide is against his (Hitler) nature…never will I believe he (Hitler) put an end to his own life…It was not in accordance with his character...”

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Dwight D. Eisenhower:
In 1952, Dwight D. Eisenhower said: "We have been unable to unearth one bit of tangible evidence of Hitler's death. Many people believe that Hitler escaped from Berlin."

Lt. Gen. Bedell Smith

Lt. Gen. Bedell Smith:
In October 12, 1945, Lt. Gen. Bedell Smith, Chief of Staff to Eisenhower, and former Director of the CIA said "No human being can say conclusively that Hitler is dead."

Judge Michael Musmano

Judge Michael Musmano:
In November 1946, the honorable Judge Michael Musmano presiding judge at the Einsatzgruppen Trial in United States military court in Nuremberg said, "Hitler's body was never found." And in 1948, he said, "We had no evidence which indicated that Hilter died in his bunker or anywhere…"

Colonel W. J. Heimlich:
In 1945, Colonel W. J. Heimlich, US Intelligence former Chief in Berlin said: "There was no evidence beyond that of hearsay to support the theory of Hitler's suicide."

Thomas J. Dodd:
In 1945 Thomas J. Dodd, chief of the U.S. trial counsel at Nuremberg said: "No one can say Hitler is dead."

General Zhukov.

General Zhukov (Zukof):
In 1945 General Zhukov said, “We have found no corpse that could be Hitler's. Hitler might have escaped...I am absolutely, positively sure Hitler escaped from Berlin...”
On June 9, 1945, Marshal Zhukov gave an official statement to the press, in which he stated that the Russians were unable to identify Hitler.
On June 10, 1945, the Russian newspaper “Pravda” published an article which contained a statement by Marshal Zhukov which clearly indicated that nothing for sure could be said about Hitler’s fate and disappearance.

Russian General Boltin:

In 1965, Russian General Boltin told Eric Kirby, correspondent of Der Spiegel that the Kremlin had no proof –whatsoever– that Hitler has committed suicide.

The FBI:
FBI memo: "A large wealthy German colony in Argentina affords tremendous possibilities... as a refuge for Hitler...."

Nikita Khrushchov

Nikita Khrushchov (Khrushchev):
Nikita Khrushchov: "Yes…sure…Stalin did not believe Hitler committed suicide. There are two ways to read history's books. Either you believe the version of the victorious, or you wait until they are dead, and you give a space for the losers.
Then you will see the two faces of events. In the case of the suicide of Hitler, the whole truth was never told.
England and the United States came up with their own version which does not unfortunately reveal the truth.

It would not be difficult for any person who has a common sense, and especially for forensic scientists to realize that we have never obtained affirmative evidence that Adolf Hitler was dead. I can't say for sure where Adolf Hitler is.
But I am certain he did not shoot himself in his bunker…What we got was a rotten double of Hitler…"

TIME magazine:
From TIME magazine, May 14, 1945: "Soviet soldiers dug deep into the rubble of the Reich Chancellery for Hitler's corpse. They did not find it…"

The New York Times:
From the New York Times, June 9, 1945: "Marshall Zhukov: We found no corpse that could be Hitler's…"

Stalin

Stalin:
May 26, 1945, Stalin told Harry Hopkins, the United States envoy in Moscow, "It is my opinion that Hitler is not dead. He is alive and hiding somewhere. I wish your government will understand and accept this…We had a dummy (Cadaver of a Double) …"

On July 17, 1945 at the Postdam Conference, Stalin told James B. Byrnes, the American Secretary of State, "Hitler is alive, probably in Spain or Argentina." Such statement could be found in President Truman's Library archives.

Vice Admiral Hans-Erich Voss:
Vice Admiral Hans-Erich Voss was one of the last occupants of the bunker, and the last senior German officers to see Adolf Hitler and

Dr. Josef Goebbels, before the alleged suicide of Hitler, and the suicide of Goebbels and his family. Vice Admiral Hans-Erich Voss stated, “On April 30, 1945, Adolf Hitler told us that he has already decided to commit suicide and escaping from Berlin was not an option.” The Admiral was never entirely convinced that Hitler had committed suicide.

On May 6, 1945, Vice Admiral Hans-Erich Voss told his Russian interrogators: “Adolf Hitler took his life in a very brave manner, although some officers believed that the Fuehrer has escaped with Eva Braun.” He added, “When Dr. Goebbels learned that the Fuehrer killed himself in the bunker, he became very depressed but remained very calm.

Vice Admiral Hans-Erich Voss

He said to me: “What a great pity such a great man is no longer with us. But there is nothing we can do now…everything is lost now and the only way left for us is what the Fuehrer has chosen. I will follow his example…”
The Russian interrogator asked Vice Admiral Hans-Erich Voss, “And you… what do you think?...Do you think Hitler committed suicide?...or he escaped from Berlin?”
Vice Admiral Hans-Erich Voss: “I don’t know…Hitler told us that he decided to kill himself…and that was the only way to face the defeat of Germany…”
The Russian interrogator: Are you absolutely sure Hitler killed himself?
Vice Admiral Hans-Erich Voss: I don’t know. I can’t say for sure he killed himself…But there is no reason to not believe Dr. Goebbels.

Hans Baur with Hitler.

Hans Baur:
Hitler's personal pilot, SS Gruppenfuhrer Hans Baur told his Russian interrogators: "Adolf Hitler, Eva Braun and General Hermann Fegelein escaped aboard a Ju 52."

Otto Guensche

Otto Guensche:
On November 15, 1958, Otto Guensche said to his American military interrogators, "I did not see the dead body of the Fuehrer." In another instance, he said, "I did not see the Fuehrer dead."
These statements clearly contradict what he has said previously, when he assured intelligence agents and military interrogators, "The Fuehrer shot himself in the bunker and we heard a shot-gun coming from his room."

Leon Degrelle:
In 1945-1946, Belgian Colonel Leon Degrelle, former commander of the Waffen-SS in Belgium said, “Hitler is alive… and the Third Reich is not dead…”

Colonel Leon Degrelle

. Right: Degrelle with Hitler .

Otto Abetz

Otto Abetz:

Just after the war ended, Otto Abetz, Germany's wartime ambassador to France, said “Hitler is certainly not dead.”

Admiral Doenitz

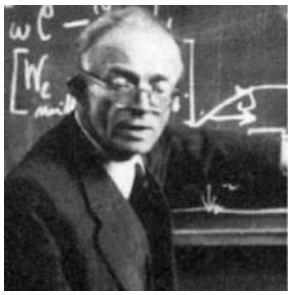
Admiral Doenitz:
In 1943, Admiral Doenitz said: “The German U-boat fleet is proud to have made an earthly paradise, an impregnable fortress for the Fuhrer, somewhere in the world.”
In 1944, Admiral Doenitz in addressing naval cadets in Kiel said, “The German Navy has still a great role to play in the future.

The German Navy knows all hiding places for the Navy to take the Fuhrer to, should the need arise."

Heinz Linge:
Other so-called Hitler's suicide eye-witnesses also contradicted themselves. For instance, Hitler's valet Heinz Linge when he was in Russian custody and during numerous interrogations assured his interrogators that in fact, "The Fuehrer killed himself in his room."

Heinz Linge

However, when he was questioned and interrogated three times by the American military interrogators, said, "No, I did not see the Fuehrer when she shot himself, nor did I see his dead body."
In fact, in additional American military interrogations to follow, none of the witnesses told the American interrogators that they saw the dead body of Hitler, including Kempka, Linge, Traudle, and Guensche.



Dr. Otto Schumann

Dr. Winfried Otto Schumann:
In the early sixties, Dr. Otto Schumann, Professor at the Munich Technical University, told Hanna Reitsch that Hitler escaped on a supersonic-anti gravity "Vrill" he built himself using a mind-bending "Metal-Alloy Technology" unknown to scientists. This craft was called "RFC-2".
The RFC-2 was one of the two small crafts, designed by Maria Orsic, and developed by Dr. Schumann and four engineers.
It was an elegant craft with a shiny metallic surface, made from an unknown alloy; it was this kind of alloy the Russians were extremely interested in, because we know that Stalin's NKVD discussed with Dr. Eugene Sänger how such an alloy could be obtained.

El Tiempo, Colombia, 20th June 1948: "Hitler had escaped by submarine to South America."

Los Angeles Times, April 27, 1945: "Nazis Flying to Spanish Island."

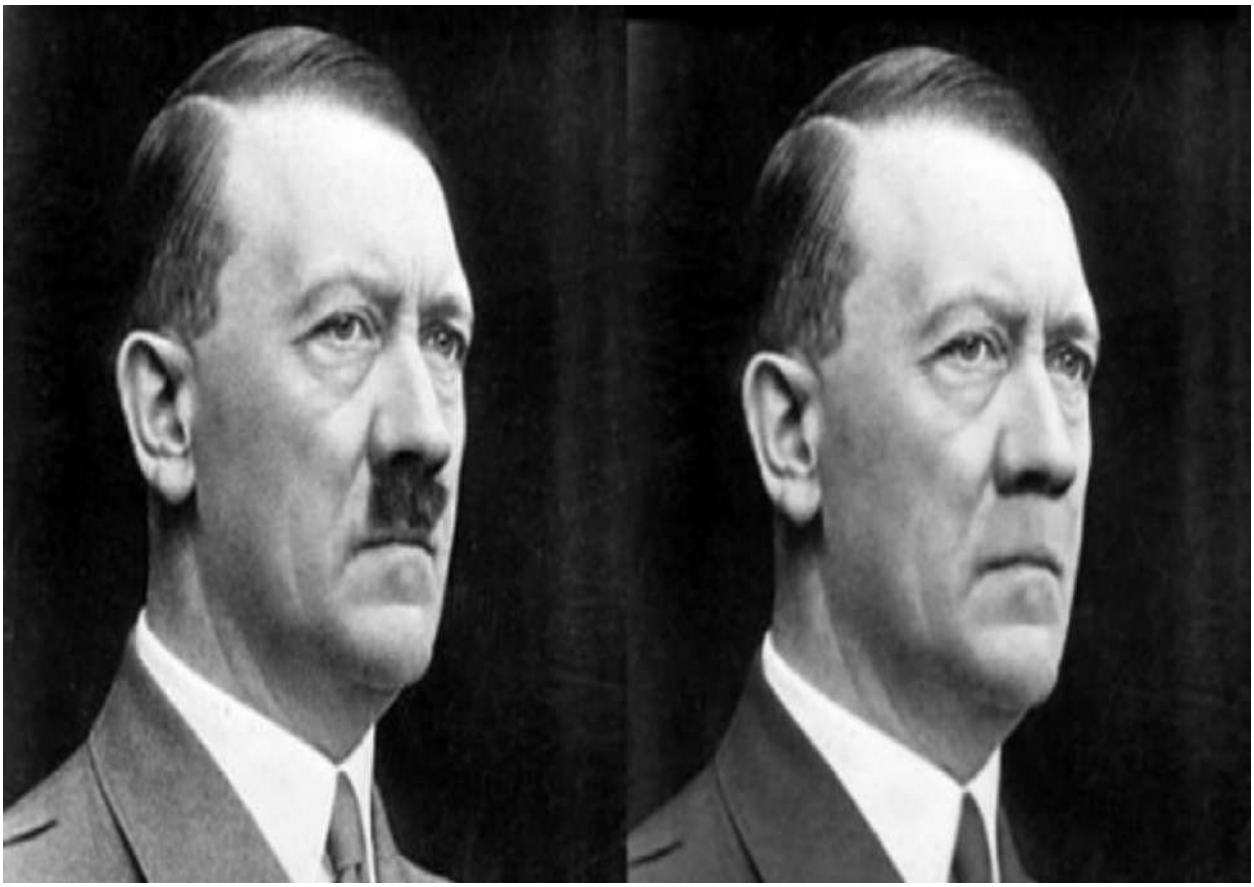
CHAPTER IX



Questions And Answers

Hitler without his mustaches. What do you think?

-Did Adolf Hitler commit suicide?
-No!
-Did Eva Braun commit suicide?
-No!
-But many of those who remained in Hitler's bunker till the last minute on April 30, 1945, have confirmed that Hitler shot himself in his room on that day.
Rochus Misch, the bunker's telephone operator and one of Hitler's bodyguards told the media that Adolf Hitler entered his personal room, and 45 minutes later, a shot was heard. In other words, Hitler committed suicide. Not true?

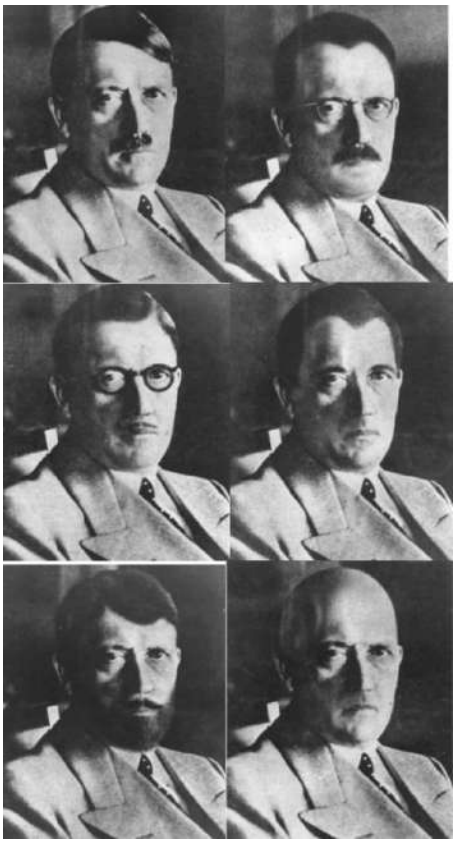
-On the surface, it is true, if you focus on the shot. And it is not true, if you link the suicide-shot to Hitler.

Rochus Misch.
Some of those who stayed in the Bunker honestly believed that their fuehrer and Eva Braun committed suicide, because they were not aware of the existence of two doubles (One for Hitler and one for Eva Braun) brought to the bunker by General Mueller, Martin Bormann and Josef Goebbels.



Six Photos of Adolf Hitler found in the United States National Archives. Fearing that Hitler would/could escape from Germany, General Donovan, then Head of the OSS (Office of Strategic Services) commissioned Eddie Senz to create various possible portraits of Hitler, in case he disguised himself and/or to project how he might look like "throughout the ages."

Rochus Misch in his SS uniform.

Misch, the bunker's telephonist and last survivor said: "On April 22, Hitler came to say goodbye to all of us. He greeted us with affection and a sad smile. He shook the hands of the women and thanked them for their loyalty and what they have given to Germany. A few seconds later, he told us the war is lost. It is over. And we should go home, because there is nothing anymore we can do… The women did not want to leave the bunker…"

Misch adds, "On April 22, 1945, Hitler said, 'The war is lost. No one is obliged to do anything any more…And after he said farewell to all of us, he entered his private room with Eva Braun. Forty five minutes later, we heard a shot. It was over. I opened the door and saw Hitler slumped by the table. But I did not see blood on his face.

He added, "Yes, I saw with his my own eyes the dead body of Hitler, seconds after he committed suicide. Bormann ordered 2 SS to wrap Hitler in a blanket. Afterward, he was taken outside and burned. That was the end…"

On May 1, 1945, Misch asked Dr. Joseph Goebbels if there was something, anything "he could do or anything left for him to do." Goebbels replied: "We have understood how to live, and now we will also understand how to die." Misch continues, "On May 2, 1945, at 6 AM, I disabled the telephone system in the Fuehrer's bunker, and afterward I left through a window in the cellar. I was caught and taken prisoner by a Russian soldier.

Misch said that he was the first to enter Hitler's private room. And who was the last person to enter Hitler's room?

Martin Bormann of course.

Why?

Because Bormann was already inside the room. He was the one who fired the blank shot. So, he had to get out of the room from the back without being seen, turn around the bunker and re-enter the bunker…

Misch said that on April 22, he saw with his own eyes the dead body of Hitler, seconds after he committed suicide. Others, who were fanatic Nazis lied to the military investigators and intel agents for obvious reasons. Martin Bormann and Josef Goebbels instructed/ordered them to tell the Russians and the Americans that de facto, Hitler committed suicide.

The gun-shot.

An act of suicide was committed, but in reality it was a homicide, for first, the person who committed suicide was not Hitler at all; he was a double, and second, he was murdered either by Martin Bormann or one of his Nazi thugs.
Inside the bunker, civilians and military men heard a gun-shot alright, but none of them knew that Hitler and Eva Braun have already left the bunker, according to the escape pre-planned by Bormann and Goebbels.

Bormann and Goebbels needed such witnesses to the suicide of their "fake" fuhrer (The double) to cover-up the escape of Hitler.
According to an author who wrote a book on Hitler's escape, Rochus Misch told him "I saw Hitler slumped by the table. I did not see any blood on his head.
And I saw Eva lying next to him on the sofa, with her knees drawn up. Hitler was taken outside to be burnt. It was over."
Why didn't Rochus Misch see blood on the face of Hitler?

Rochus Misch, SS Oberscharführer, the bunker's telephonist and Hitler's bodyguard.

Because, Misch never entered Hitler's room. Bormann or one of his SS men shot Hitler's double long before they brought him in… to Hitler's room from a hidden entrance Hitler and Eva Braun used as an exit to get out of the bunker.

-But many of those who were standing in the corridor outside Hitler's room confirmed that they heard a shot coming from Hitler's room?

-That is correct, they heard a shot, but it was blank; a very special kind of bullet, manufactured for that purpose. And this is why no one, including the Russian officers and soldiers who entered Hitler's room could find a bullet case, because no real bullet was ever fired!

Contradictory statements

- 1-In May, 1945, Hans Rattenhuber, told his Russian interrogators: “Hitler poisoned himself with cyanide, and ten minutes later, his valet Linge shot him to make sure that he was dead.”
- 2-Erich Kempka said verbatim: “Bormann, Linge and me heard the shot and we stormed into the room of Hitler. Dr. Stumpfegger came to examine the body of Hitler. Short after, Dr. Goebbels and Arthur Axmann were informed…”
- 3- In a first version of his testimony, Erich Kempka said, “Eva Braun shot herself…” In a second version, Kempka changed his story and said, “Eva Braun took poison.”

  4-In an early testimony, Erich Kempka said, “I heard two shots.” Later on, he changed his story and said, “I heard one shot.”

Erich Kempka chauffeurs Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini in 1937.

Arthur Axmann

By using logic and common sense, we could easily come to a conclusion that none of the bunker's occupants could have heard a 7.65 mm Walther gun-shot, simply because Hitler's room had two foot thick concrete walls with sixteen foot thick reinforced concrete ceiling. Add to the fact that those who allegedly heard the gun-shot were separated from the interior of Hitler's room by two heavy doors, each four-inch-thick and hermetically sound and gas proofed.

Those who are familiar with arms and guns know very well that a 7.65 mm Walther caliber does not produce a loud sound.

Hugh Trevor-Ropert's findings and report

Late in 1945, Hugh Trevor-Roper was appointed by the British Intelligence in Germany to fully investigate the death (Alleged suicide) of Adolf Hitler and the conflicting evidence surrounding his suicide and final days, and the Russians' claims about Hitler's escape.
The report/findings of Trevor-Ropert were published in March 1947 in a book under the title "The Last Days of Hitler."
Based upon the book and the shaky conclusions/findings of Trevor-Roper, the media and the general public concluded that de facto Adolf Hitler has committed suicide, despite the fact that the dead body of Hitler was never found.

When Major Hugh Trevor-Ropert arrived to the bunker:

- 1-The dead body of Hitler was nowhere to be found.
- 2-No fingerprints of Hitler were taken or found.
- 3-The leaked water from the upper level covered a major part of the bunker, including Hitler's personal room.
- 4-Russian soldiers have already looted the place.
- 5-Female Russian soldiers went through what was left from Eva Braun's clothes; they stole her bras and perfumes bottles, ripped off two of her handbags and contaminated the whole area.
- 6-The supposedly blood of Hitler on the sofa was contaminated since both American and Russian soldiers touched the blood-stained area of the sofa, and two Russian soldiers sat exactly where allegedly Hitler sat and shot himself, and were mimicking Hitler and trying to act like a Fuehrer.

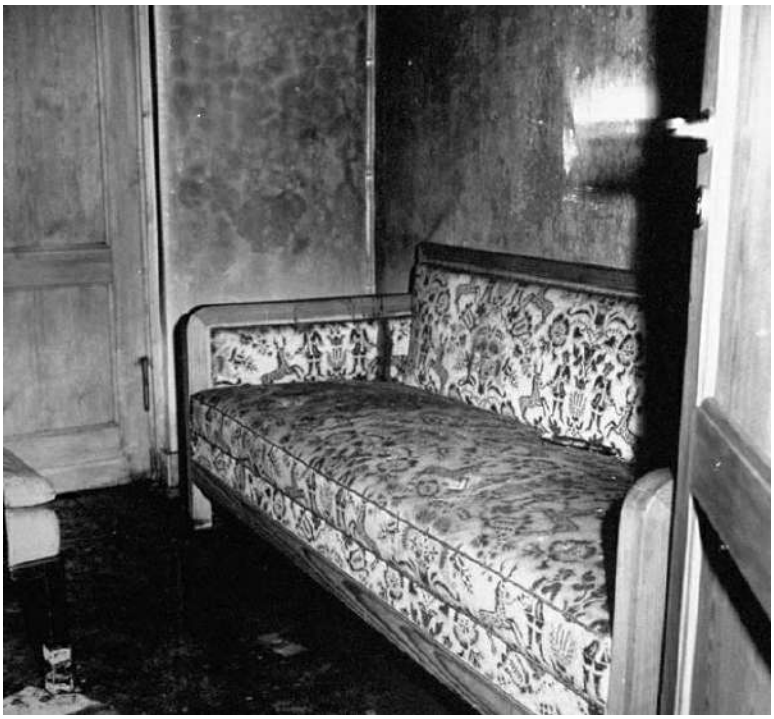
- 7-The stained blood area was spoiled by Russian military boots.
- 8-Even one Russian soldier spit on the blood-stained spot. An eyewitness said that one Russian soldier urinated over Hitler's sofa.
- 9-In the earliest stage of Trevor-Ropert's investigation, the generators were already destroyed, the electricity in the bunker was cut off and all the wires and electrical outlets were damaged, so Hugh Trevor-Roper had to investigate under the candlelight and flashlights.
- 10-Many items in Hitler's personal room were moved around, some thrown on the floor, others smashed, and many stolen.

A Russian soldier in the room of Hitler and Eva Braun, after the looting.

Russians examining the blood stains on Hitler's sofa, and the alleged suicide scene, while holding a candle, because the generators were destroyed, the electricity in the bunker was cut off and all the wires and electrical outlets were damaged.

Ironically, the blood was not his. It did not match his blood category; it was Gustav Weler's blood, his double.



The infamous sofa.

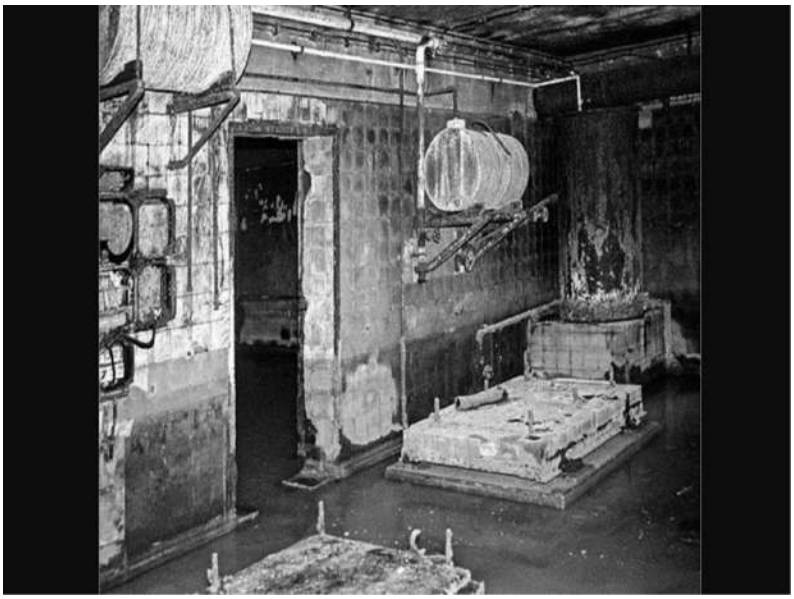
The electricity in the bunker was cut off and all the wires and electrical outlets were damaged.



Another area of the bunker.

Hugh Trevor-Roper in 1941.

Grosso modo, no meticulous forensic investigation was ever conducted by the Russians, the Americans and by Major Hugh Trevor-Ropert.
And most certainly, Trevor-Roper's investigation was neither scientific nor professional.

Despite his status in the espionage and intelligence community, Major Hugh Trevor-Ropert was not a seasoned forensic investigator.
Perhaps an alert interrogator, but definitely not an expert in forensic investigations. According to an article published in The Washington Post," Margaret Thatcher herself once made fun of Hugh Trevor-Roper.
After she asked him in front of others when she could expect his next book, he said he actually had one "on the stocks."
She replied, "On the stocks? On the stocks? A fat lot of good that is! In the shops, that is where we need it!" (Statement taken from an article by Mr. Michael O'Donnell, "How a historian who reveled in destroying the reputations of others ruined his own."
–From The Washington Post, January 2012.
Grosso modo, Major Hugh Trevor-Ropert's report is a farce!

The problem (or problems) with Major Hugh Trevor-Ropert's report

---

Major Trevor-Ropert was never sincere, honest and objective; he was "hired" by the British not to investigate the death (Alleged suicide) of Adolf Hitler and the conflicting evidence surrounding his suicide and final days, as it seemed on the surface, but rather to confirm beyond the shadow of a doubt that de facto Adolf Hitler committed suicide in the bunker, thus saving the "face of the United Kingdom and the United States", and removing any possible embarrassment to the British and Americans, and even to go an extra mile to discredit the claims of Stalin.

The Adolf Hitler's suicide story was first told by few Nazis who remained in Hitler's bunker until his alleged suicide. (To insiders and to the well-informed, until the last act of his planned and staged suicide and escape from the bunker.)

Those Nazis claimed to be the witnesses of the events that occurred inside the bunker right before it was captured by the Russians (The Red Amy).
In other words, they are the first and only Nazis who saw with their own eyes "everything", including what has happened to Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun in the bunker. Many of those witnesses were not accessible to Major Ropert (These witnesses are the essential ones); he could not interview the essential witnesses because they were in Russian custody, such as:

- Gestapo Chief, General Mueller,
- SS Obergruppenfuhrer Johann (Hans) Rattenhuber,

- SS Obersturmbannfuhrer Harry Mengershausen,
- SS Sturmbannfuhrer Otto Gunsche.

Nota Bene: Years after the end of the war, we learned that the most vital and important testimonies and accounts about Adolf Hitler's alleged suicide were given by General Mueller, General Rattenhuber, Harry Mengershausen (Member of Adolf Hitler's personal guard), and Gunsche to their Russian interrogators between 13 May and 20 May 1945, and Ropert had no access to the Russian interrogations files and dossiers.
In addition, none of the assumed major players in the cover-up such as Dr. Goebbels, Martin Bormann, General Krebs, General Wilhelm Emanuel Burgdorf, Lt. Colonel Franz Schadle, and Ewald Lindloff, were interviewed by Major Ropert because they did not survive the war.

General Burgdorf

Thus, Ropert's interviews with Else Krueger, Gerda Christian, and Erich Kempka and the information he obtained from those interviews are neither complete nor authoritative, because these three witnesses, practically and basically knew nothing about what went on inside Hitler's room. In addition, Major Trevor-Ropert did not have full access to the British and American separate military interrogations of SS Hauptscharfuhrer Erich Mansfeld, and SS Unterfuhrer Hermann Karnau.

From left to right: August Korber, Adolf Dirr, Erich Kempka, Adolf Hitler, Bruno Gesche, and Franz Schädle.

Even though, the British and American interrogations of Erich Kempka, Heinz Linge and Reichsjugendleiter Artur Axmann were of a major importance, and quite revealing and informative, these three witnesses were pressured from the beginning by their interrogators to admit that Hitler committed suicide.

From the testimony/statement of Erich Kempka

Kempka: “I told them (The interrogators) exactly what they wanted me to say…I told the Americans everything, exactly as things happened.
They said fine, but you were in the bunker when Hitler shot himself. I said no, I wasn’t there. They said yes you were inside the bunker. And I replied no I was not in the bunker. Then one man in a civilian suit who was standing at the rear end of the room approached me and said with a cynical smile on his face, why don’t you make it easy on yourself and say you were in the bunker, this could help your situation a lot.
I did not fully understand what he meant. Then the interrogator with a poker’s face said, just say that and you will be OK. Do you want to be prosecuted?
Do you know what would happen to you, don’t you?
I felt the pressure. I knew then that I have to cooperate even if I have to lie. And I said to him, yes, I was in the bunker. Then he added, and you heard the shot, right? I replied yes. And he added, and you entered the room immediately and saw Hitler dead, correct? I said yes, correct. The man in civilian clothes said to me, “Bormann was not in the room of Adolf Hitler when you discovered the body of Hitler, right?
Without thinking I replied yes.

The interrogator added, “Bormann was already dead…we know, we found his dead body near a bridge. He was shot in the head, shoulders and legs. You will say that! Wouldn’t you?” Yes, I will say that, what else you want to me say, I asked him.
He replied, “That would be sufficient.” It was obvious to me that that some sort of a cover-up was in the making…” But I had to cooperate; my life was on the line. “

For the record:

- 1-Major Trevor-Ropert never conducted a forensic investigation to confirm the suicide of Hitler and determine the cause of death of Hitler and Eva Braun, simply because the bodies of Hilter and Eva Braun were never found. Major Hugh Trevor-Ropert had no physical evidence!

- 2-Major Trevor-Ropert's report was based upon statements from Nazis who were extremely loyal to Adolf Hitler, and who took part in the cover-up of the suicide and escape of Hitler.

- 3-The statements of those Nazi and so-called witnesses of the suicide of Hitler were filled with contradictions and discrepancies.

- 4-Major Trevor-Ropert put a strong emphasis on testimonies and accounts of witnesses and occupants of the bunker, rotating specifically around what went on inside the room of Hitler, the "crime scene"! None of them was inside Hitler's room when he allegedly shot himself. Consequently, none of them could have known what de facto went on inside Hitler's room at the time of the shooting.

- 5-Major Hugh Trevor-Ropert interviewed the wrong "so-called" witnesses of Hitler's suicide, because all of them stated publicly that they were neither inside Hitler's room nor near the room at the time of the shooting. For instance, he interviewed Gerda Christian, Hitler's secretary about the suicide of Hitler, who made it clear to him that she was neither inside the room nor nearby the room. Borman's secretary, Else Krueger said the very same thing. In fact, both secretaries testified that they heard about Hitler's suicide from other occupants of the bunker, and Hilter's aides such as Otto Guensche and Heinz Linge.

- 6-Major Trevor-Ropert never tried –or possibly never wanted– to discern, to verify and to explain events lack of veracity, events' correct time-occurrences, events' wrong time-occurrences, and the testimony/statement of Erich Kempka, especially contradictions in testimonies by witnesses he interrogated, and pertaining to the same events(s) and the date(s) of those events.

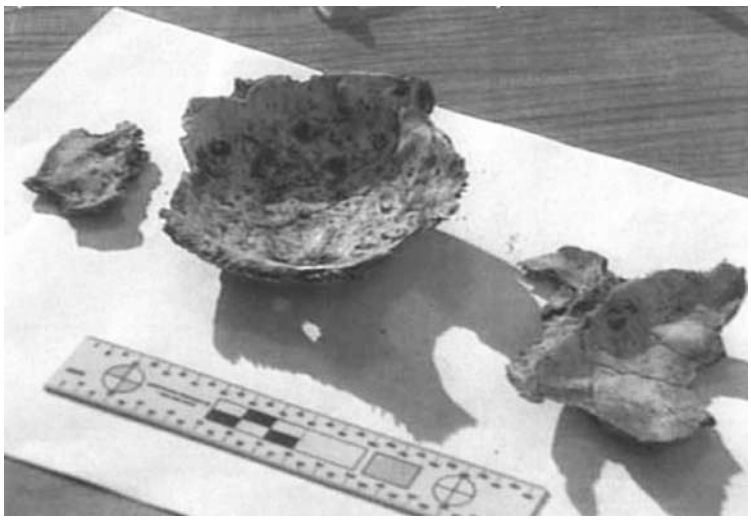
Chapter X
Forensic Evidence



The remaining fragments from the skull of Adolf Hitler, according to the Russians.

Death of Hitler based upon his skull with a bullet hole in it.
Fragments from the skull of Hitler?

Really? Impossible!
This skull belongs to a young Russian woman, according to recent DNA analysis.
The Russians claimed that what you see above are the remaining fragments from the skull of Adolf Hitler. They kept these remains for almost 60 years in a card box, in their state archives.

The alleged skull of Adolf Hitler, according to the Russians.

It is ironic and puzzling, for Stalin kept on claiming ad infinitum that Hitler has escaped from Germany.
How an intelligent person could possibly explain the Russian multiple versions and the denial of Stalin. Is it the skull of Hitler as claimed by the KGB and NKVD, or it is not, since Stalin have said so many times that Hitler has escaped from the bunker, either to Spain or Argentina?
The Russians can't have it both ways!!
The Russians never ever produced or released photos of the alleged dead and burned bodies of Hitler and Eva Braun! So where is the proof that Hitler committed suicide?
None whatsoever!
History or legend has it that Adolf Hitler committed suicide by gunshot on Monday, April 30, 1945 in his führerbunker in Berlin. A small fragment from his skull with a bullet hole in it, which was kept in the Russian KGB and NKBD secret archives, seems to convince many military historians that de facto, Hitler shot himself. For years everybody believed that Hitler was 6 foot under. But, recent DNA meticulous study of the alleged skull revealed that it couldn't be Hitler's skull, simply because it belonged to a young

Russian woman!!

From the Guardian and the Observer:
The Guardian and the Observer stated (A Headline): "Tests on skull fragment cast doubt on Adolf Hitler suicide story. Bone with bullet hole found by Russians in 1946 came from an unknown woman, not the German leader."

The Guardian added, "Some historians expressed doubt that the Führer had shot himself, speculating that accounts of Hitler's death had been embellished to present his suicide in a suitably heroic light.
But a fragment of skull, complete with bullet hole, which was taken from the bunker by the Russians and displayed in Moscow in 2000, appeared to settle the argument. American researchers claim to have demonstrated that the skull fragment, secretly preserved for decades by Soviet intelligence, belonged to a woman under 40, whose identity is unknown.
DNA analyses performed on the bone, now held by the Russian State Archive in Moscow, have been processed at the genetics lab of the University of Connecticut. The results, broadcast in the US by a History Channel documentary, Hitler's Escape , astonished scientists." According to Connecticut archaeologist and bone specialist Nick Bellantoni, it was clear from the outset that something was amiss.
The bone seemed very thin; male bone tends to be more robust," he said. "And the sutures where the skull plates come together seemed to correspond to someone under 40."

Excerpts from the Associated Press by Pat Eaton-Robb.
Headline: Scientists: Skull piece that Russian officials say came from Hitler's body actually from woman.

A piece of skull with a bullet hole through it that Russian officials claimed belonged to Adolf Hitler actually came from a woman, scientists at the University of Connecticut concluded.
Connecticut archaeologist Nick Bellantoni was asked to examine the skull and blood samples for a History Channel documentary on Hitler's death that aired this month.
Bellantoni said his initial forensic exam of the skull fragment showed it didn't match what he knew of Hitler's biology. “The bone was very small and thin, and normally male bones are much more robust in our species,” Bellantoni said Tuesday. “I thought it probably came from a woman or a younger man.” Bellantoni then took several pinhead-size pieces of the skull fragment and swabs of the blood stains back to the university for analysis.

Linda Strausbaugh, a professor of molecular and cell biology, got help from two former students who work in the New York City medical examiner's office. The former students, Craig O'Connor and Heather Nelson, are experts in working with challenging DNA samples and were able to extract enough DNA from the bone pieces to do a forensic study, Strausbaugh said.
She said they determined that the DNA came from a 20-to 40-year-old woman. The skull fragment could have come from Braun, but to know that, the lab would need samples of her DNA, she said. Also, the DNA samples were very degraded, making identification unlikely, Strausbaugh said.

Witnesses never reported Braun being shot in the head, Bellantoni said, and she is thought to have died of cyanide poisoning. “This person, with a bullet hole coming out the back of the head, would have been shot in the face, in the mouth or underneath the chin,” he said. “It would have been hard for them to miss that.”

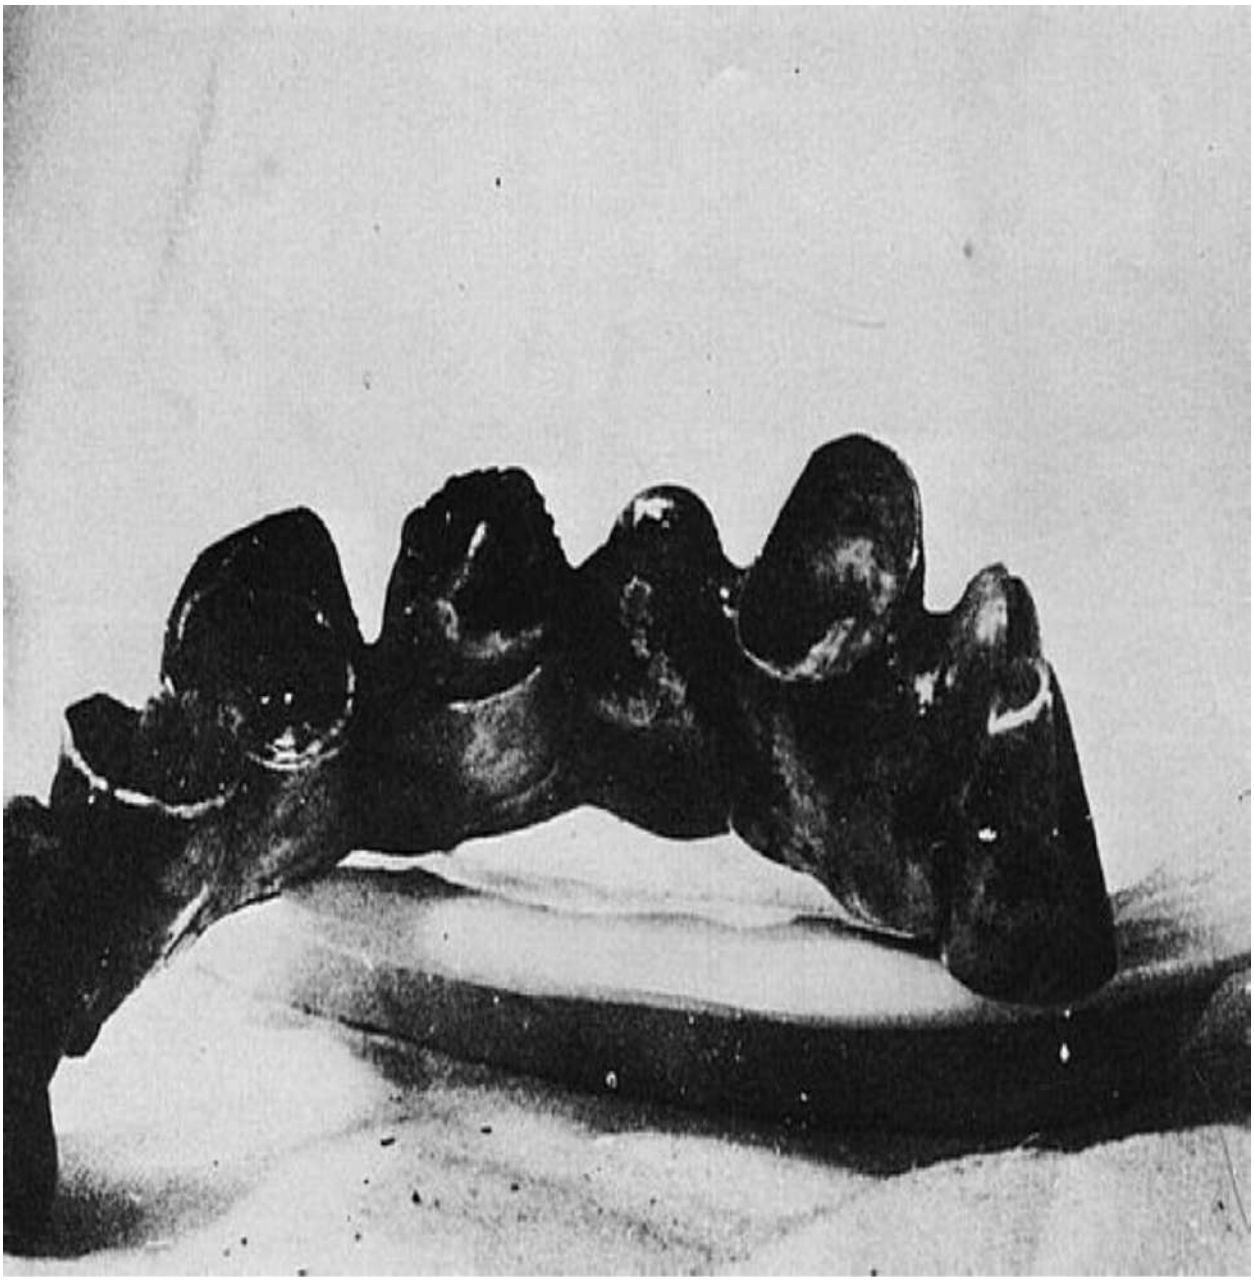
Hitler’s Corpse False Teeth.



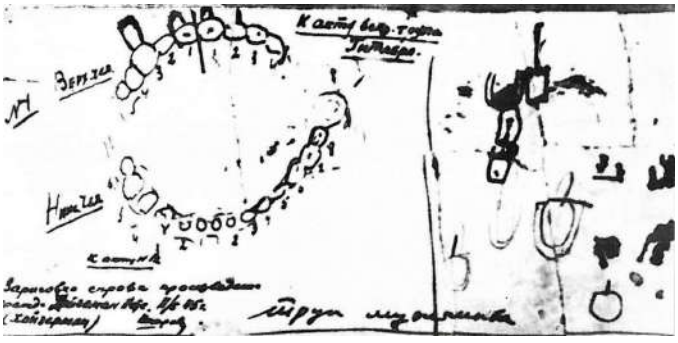
Part from Adolf Hitler's upper teeth in 1945, as produced to the world by the Russians. Hitler’s false teeth were hidden in the secret files of the NKVD and KGB for decades. Finally, in 1992, the Russians released the files on Hitler’s teeth and were made accessible to scientists and historians.

General Muller on Hitler's teeth and creation of false dental records.

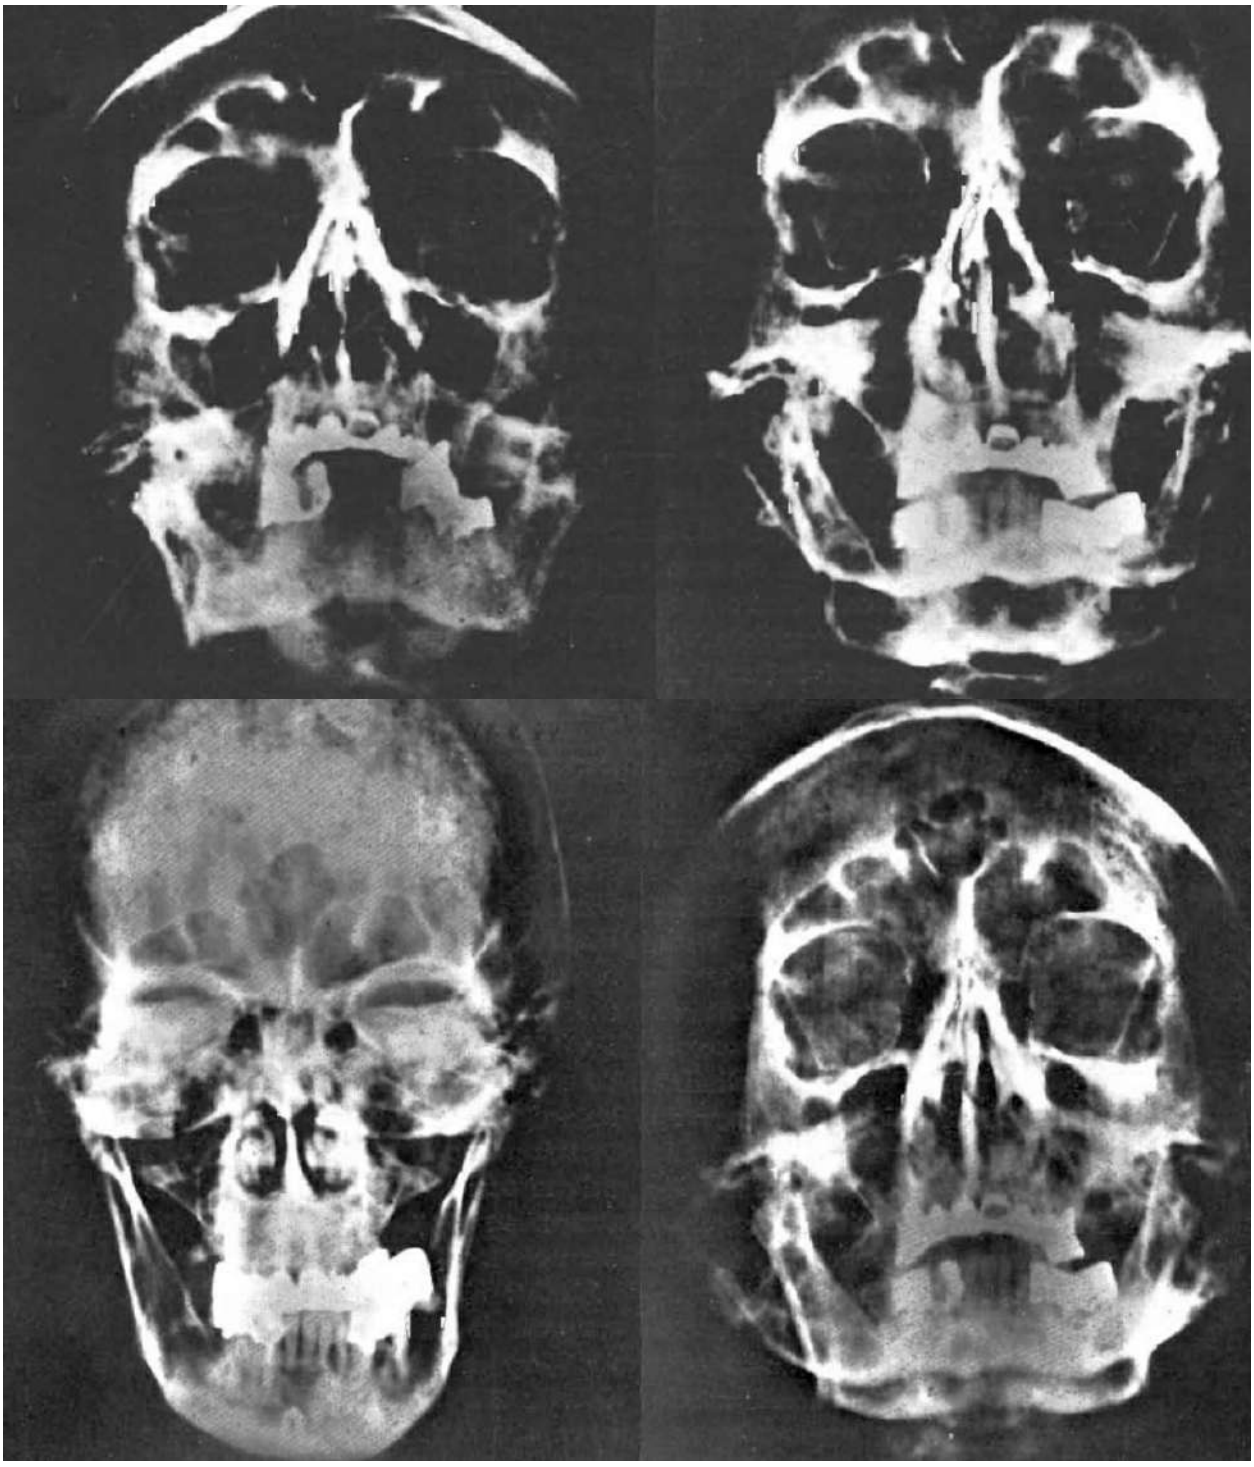
Muller stated, "Goebbels had already decided what to do with the doubles, after the escape of Hitler. I did not approve. But he was in charge. Yes, I did talk to Hitler in the Chancellery's garden about the fate of his double, he laughed and said, this would confuse Stalin…It was not my idea to eliminate the doubles. Dr. Goebbels insisted that all the doubles must die including those we did not use. Borman approved. Goebbels was concerned with two things, the faces and the teeth of the doubles.

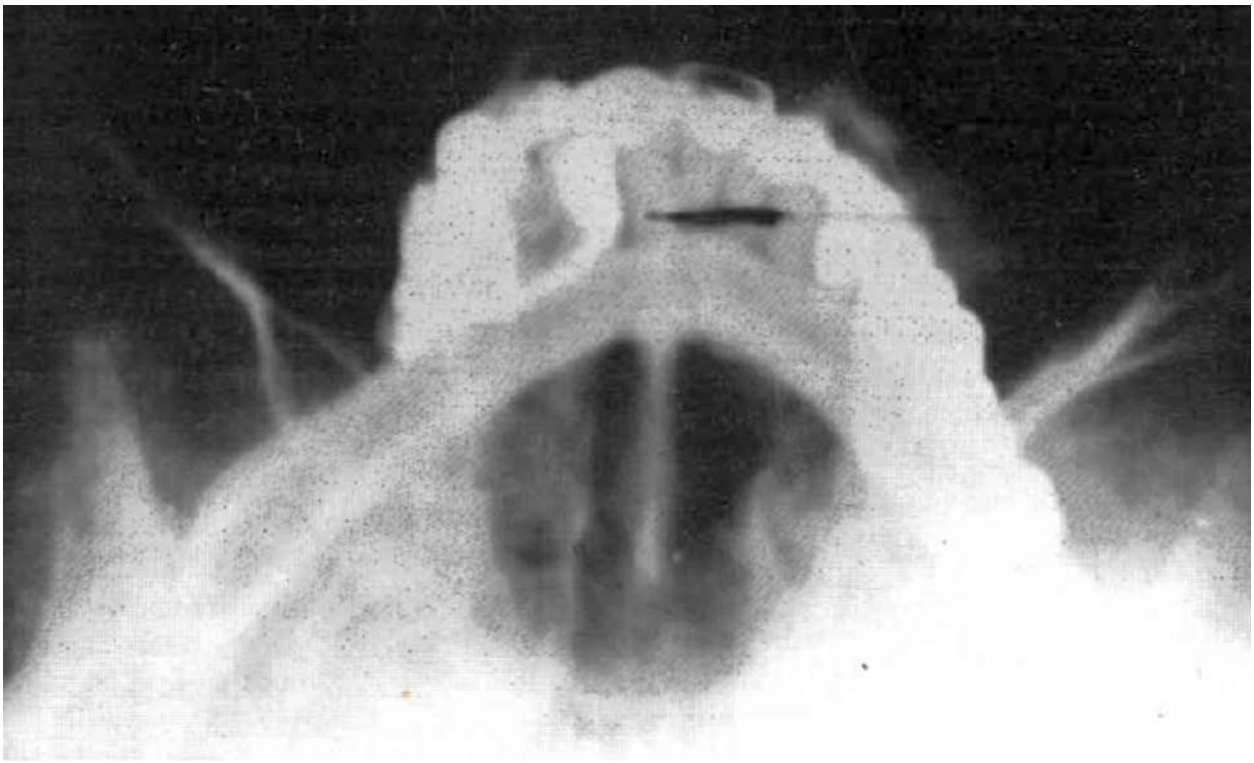
He wanted everything to be perfect and remove any suspicions from the heads of the Russians.

He knew the Russians will try to identify the dead bodies from dental records, so he decided to fake dental records, replace some records with other records he could obtain from SS military clinics…even break their spines, exactly where the spine of Hitler was broken when he was injured in World War One."



Dr. Heusermann's sketch of Adolf Hitler's teeth, on May 11, 1945.





Five X-ray plates of Adolf Hitler found in the records of Dr. Morell, Hitler's personal physician.

Upon an order from the Americans, Dr. Hugo Blaschke, Hitler's dentist prepared descriptions and diagrams of the dental condition of Adolf Hitler, which included teeth that were present, restored, decayed, extracted, replaced, and lost, including all porcelain fillings, as well as diagrammatic profile of the teeth from the buccal and the labial aspects of both the upper and lower jaws. He did, but he wrote his notes from memory.

See on the next page:

Dr. Hugo Johannes Blaschke (November 14, 1881-December 6, 1959) Hitler's dentist.

The Russians got the burned body of a person they first assumed was the charred body of Adolf Hitler, even though the NKVD initial military investigators and Stalin knew very well that Hitler had escaped from his bunker. Despite this charade and lack of any forensic evidence, the Russians tried to find “something”, by examining the teeth of the burned body. They hoped against all odds that the teeth could or would identify the body of Hitler. But they were facing a major problem. They did not have any pertinent dental record (s).

Besides, they were unable to find Dr. Hugo Blaschke.
So what they did was the following, in a chronological order:
a-They removed the lower jaw and what was left from the bridge.
b-They began to look for Hitler's dentist, whom they discovered was Dr. Hugo Blaschke, but could not interrogate him, for he was already in the Americans' custody.
(He was captured in Salzburg on May 28, 1945).
c-They raided on Dr. Blaschke's clinic, hoping to find Hitler's dental records, and again, no records were found, simply because Adolf Hitler, from his first visit to his dentist, issued an order to confiscate all his medical and dental records and to keep them in his personal files at the Chancellery.

ANNEX I

THE TEETH OF HITLER

Source: BLASCHKE, Dr Hugo Johannes Position: Brig Gen in Waffen SS, Hitler's dentist

(NOTE: The following is a translation of notes written for this report by BLASCHKE, giving Hitler's abridged case history as a dental patient in the years 1934 to 1945.)

"In the beginning of the year 1934 I was, at the instance of the then (Prussian) Prime Minister GOERING, called to the Reich Chancellery. I was told that Adolf Hitler had a toothache. Upon examination I found a swelling of the gingiva of the left lower jaw, extending from the left central incisor to the left cuspid. The lower left lateral incisor had at its distal end a cavity which extended as far as the pulp cavity. The pulp was dead and the tooth sensitive to pressure. All lower incisors, especially the ones on the left, were very loose.

"The pains could be caused either by an abscess in the area of the root-tips or by an abscess in the gingival pocket of the lower left lateral incisor.

"After opening of the root canal and removal of an abundance of tartar the pains soon decreased in intensity and disappeared completely over night.

"The X-ray photos showed the following: a lentil-sized light spot around the tip of the root of the lower left lateral incisor. Strong atrophy of the alveoli, most pronounced around the lower right central incisor and the lower left central and lateral incisors...

"During the following days--besides the treatment of the root of the lower left lateral incisor--tartar was thoroughly. The gingivitis healed and the teeth became steadier and again fit for use. The treatment of the root took a normal course. The tooth was filled with iodoform-paste (alkhoff) and temporarily closed...

"In the upper jaw much more extensive work was necessary. There existed on either side bridges which were connected by an arch behind the left incisors. Three fourths of the upper left lateral incisor was broken off. The arch connecting the two bridges caused annoyance because food particles got caught in it easily. The gingiva had receded considerably from the edges of the existing gold crowns, so that the necks of the teeth were exposed. Caries had started at some of these points.

"The old bridges had to be removed and replaced. As the upper right central incisor was already absent and replaced by part of the bridge and as, in addition, the lateral incisor was 3/4 broken off, the gaps would have impeded speech. Hitler refused a temporary replacement through a removable dental plate for the period of manufacture (of the new replacements). It was then possible to remove both bridges in their entirety. They were taken out at each sitting and temporarily fastened again afterward. The root of the upper left lateral incisor, which had to be completely removed for the fitting-on of the new crown, received a temporary pivot-tooth.

Report of Dr. Hugo Johannes Blaschke on the teeth of Hitler. This is a fact which was later documented by General Mueller.

Destroying Hitler's personal papers and files is a historical fact; SS Captain Schwaegermann burned the room/study of Hitler in his bunker and destroyed Hitler's files according to Hitler's bunker technician Hentschel, and upon a direct order from SS General Mohnke. And Julius Schaub, Hitler's adjutant and chief aide was ordered by Hitler to burn all his personal papers and personal belongings from the bunker and the Reichskanzlei.

As to hiding or destroying medical records, this was a "standard practice", a Hitler's typical habit to remove his medical records and pertinent documents from all the clinics and hospitals he visited.

On the Canadian CBC television show "As It Happens".
On September 17, 1974, on the Canadian CBC television show "As It Happens" Dr. Ryder Saguenay, oral surgeon and professor at the University of California at Los Angeles, said, "Adolf Hitler ordered a special plane to leave from Berlin carrying all the medical and dental records, and especially the X-rays of all the top Nazis to an unknown destination."
In one of his statements, Dr. Ryder Saguenay said that "The dental records used to identify Hitler's corpse were drawn from memory by Dr. Hugo Blaschke's dental assistant, who was pressured by the Russians to identify the corpse's teeth and jaws, and this assistant was later killed by the Russians."
Dr. Hugo Blaschke, Hitler's dentist told his military interrogators in 1945, "This plane never arrived at Salzburg, and from the Obersalzberg it could never be ascertained what had become of it." Hitler's personal physician, Dr. Theodor Morell confirmed the story of Dr. Hugo Blaschke. More on this on the following pages.

d-Upon learning that Dr. Hugo Blaschke was in the custody of the Americans, the Russians began to search for his assistants, who apparently did some minor work on Hitler's teeth. And they found two: Kate (Kaethe) Hausermann and Fritz Echtmann.

3-The Russians ordered Kaethe Hausermann to identify the teeth and jaws of the corpse, and to sketch Hitler's dental work (Teeth) from memory, and which they did. But her sketches were very different from the notes and sketches of Dr. Blaschke, the dentist she worked for.

Dr. Theodor Morell, Hitler’s physician.

Kate (Kaethe) Hausermann.

4-Upon the completion of Kaethe Hausermann's sketches of the assumed Hitler's teeth and dental work, the Russians falsely claimed that they have found Hitler's dental records in Dr. Hugo Blaschke's clinic, despite the fact that no dental records were ever found, and their knowledge of General Mueller's destruction of Hitler's medical and dental records.

Part of the Russian claim was based upon a telegram they received from General Donovan, then head of the OSS, dated July 28, 1945, which contained Dr. Hugo Blaschke's notes and description of Adolf Hitler's teeth.

The big problem with the teeth/jaws identification.

Both Americans and Russians faced un fait accompli ; no solid forensic evidence (s).

●1-The Russians got the body (and the teeth) and captured two technical assistants who worked at Dr. H. Blaschke's clinic, but did not have the dental records of Hitler. The Americans got Dr. H. Blaschke, but no dental records were ever found, because they were already destroyed.

●2-Dr. Hugo Blaschke on the American side reconstructed Hitler's dental records from memory, and on the Russian side, Dr. Hugo Blaschke's assistants also reconstructed Hitler's dental records from memory.

The Americans and the Russians had no postmortem and ante-mortem data for dental comparison. The 1945 Russian autopsy of the burned body (Assumingly Hitler's body) lacked ante-mortem dental evidence and scientific-forensic comparison data related to an absolute and irrefutable postmortem identification of Adolf Hitler.

Some have claimed that the United States files on the 1945 interrogations of Dr. Hugo Blaschke, which can be found in the Captured Records Branch of the United States National Archives and Records Service in Washington, D.C., and the five authenticated X Ray plates of Hitler's head and jaws taken right after the assassination attempt of Hitler in 1944, proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that the skull, the jaws and the teeth believed to be those of Hitler are Not the remains of Adolf Hitler. This could be factual to a certain degree, but according to Dr. Hugo Blaschke, the dental records of Hitler have disappeared from the face of the Earth before the end of World War Two. He is convinced that General Mueller got hold of the dental records, as well as other medical records pertaining to Adolf Hitler.

In his interrogations by the Americans, Dr. Blaschke stated that on April 20 or 21, 1945, in the Chancellery in Berlin, he was ordered to pack and leave with “minimum baggage” in less than one hour.

American war correspondents are shown the place where Adolf Hitler's alleged burned body was buried and found by the Red Army, right behind the Chancellery in Berlin.

He told his interrogators, “I was helped in packing the little portable dental station which I wanted to take with me by my dental helper Mrs. Kaethe Heusermann and my assistant Dr. Rohkamm…my baggage was then supposed to be sent from Tempelfof field to Salzburg in a transport plane carrying baggage exclusively.

This plane never arrived at Salzburg, and from the Obersalzberg it could never be ascertained what had become of it."
Hitler's personal physician, Dr. Theodor Morell confirmed the story of Dr. Hugo Blaschke during his interrogations by the Americans.
In a top-secret addendum to OI FIR (Final Interrogation Report) 31 and 32, which was still available in 1945 and 1946, and which disappeared in late 1946, Dr. Blaschke told his military interrogators, "I can't for sure identify the teeth of Hitler from other medical reports. I am sure the Russians don't have the teeth and jaws of Hitler.
First, they don't match my recollection (Note: Here the lines are not clear) of… and second, it would be impossible for my assistants to identify and match what the Russians claim to have, simply because they did not work on Hitler's teeth…"

Dr. Robert Dorian's report:
According to Dr. Robert Dorian, an authority in the field, and Director of Forensic Dentistry for the Ministry of the Solicitor General of Quebec, in Montreal, Canada, who examined the notes of Blaschke and his assistants, and meticulously compared the photos of Hitler corpse's teeth and jaw with numerous close-up open-mouthed photos of Hitler's taken throughout his life, concluded that there are enormous differences between the photos of the corpse's teeth/jaws and previous open-mouthed photos of Hitler.

Dr. R. Dorian confirmed that Adolf Hitler had a root canal and porcelain tooth. The photos of the corpse's teeth/jaws found in the Russian files did not show up a root canal and a porcelain tooth. He also noticed that the corpse had a lower bridge work very different from the bridge work Hitler had before his alleged suicide.

Thus, he concluded that the jaws and teeth of the corpse did not match Adolf Hitler's previous photos he carefully examined. This statement was confirmed by Dr. Hugo Blaschke when he told his military interrogators that he did not install (Himself) the two lowers bridges. Dr. Blaschke added that he performed a root canal, while the Russian photo of the corpse did not reveal any root canal.

Dr. Erwin Giesing's report:
In November 1971, Dr. Erwin Giesing who treated Adolf Hitler's shattered eardrums caused by the bomb plot, stated publicly that Hitler's teeth X-ray pictures were totally and entirely different from the X ray plates allegedly taken by the Russians during the autopsy of Hitler's corpse in Moscow.
And he concluded that the medical reports, the X ray plates and the findings of the corpse's autopsy were a fake! In other words, Dr. Giesing denounced the Soviet odontology report of Hitler's teeth.

ENCYCLOPEDIC DICTIONARY OF DJINN, SIHR AND SPIRITISM LANGUAGES
The Mega Book Of The 5 Volumes Of Djinn,
Sihr And Spiritism: Vocabulary, Phraseology
And Dictionary Of The Languages Of Sahiriin,
Djinn, Afarit, Shayatiin, Spirits, Witchcraft
5 VOLUMES IN ONE

ENCYCLOPEDIC DICTIONARY OF DJINN, SIHR AND SPIRITISM LANGUAGES.

Vocabulary, Phraseology And Dictionary Of The Languages Of Sahiriin, Djinn, Afarit, Shayatiin, Spirits, Witchcraft.

The world's most authoritative book on Sihr's terminology, definitions, explanation, and the secret esoteric meaning of words, spells, commands and magical writings used in summoning spirits and conversing with multi-dimensional entities. There is no way in the world would you be able to summon and communicate with spirits, Djinns, Afarit, demons and even Noble Souls if you are not familiar with the terminology, vocabulary and phraseology of their languages and the Sihr language. This book will teach you all of the above, and provide you with most useful phrases needed in your conversation with summoned spirits and entities. It is easy, fun, and fast!

Almost 90% of the words, expressions and sentences found in this glossary/vocabulary are commonly, frequently and jointly used by Al Sahiriin (Sorcerers), Al Rouhaniyiin (Spiritists), Mounawariin (Enlightened), and practitioners of witchcraft in the Middle East, the Near East, and North Africa, to summon and to communicate with Arwaah (Spirits), Mawtah (Dead people), Djinn, Afarit, Shayatiin (Demons or Evil Entities), and various non-physical entities which have not departed yet, crossed over, and which are still trapped in Bilaya (Doomed Zones of trapped spirits of dead people, and even our beloved pets). It is extremely important and paramount to understand that in this context, we are exclusively referring to old spirits (Arwaah) and entities which existed and still exist in the archaic spiritist realm of the ancient world of the Middle/Near East, Pre-Islam, and Islam.

Those who are familiar with dead languages and languages of the ancient world of the Middle East, Near East and Anatolia will immediately notice that many words in the spirits and etheric multi-dimensional entities' languages are frequently found in various languages and scriptures of the ancient world, such as Akkadian, Sumerian, Assyrian, Babylonian, Ugaritic, Byblos Script of Phoenicia, Ana'kh (Anunnaki's language), Aramaic, Hebrew and Arabic.

Those Arwaah and entities could be summoned only if they are contacted in their ancient languages, some of which were written down and preserved in Arabic and Sahiriin texts, and shrouded in secrecy for centuries. However, our departed relatives, parents, friends and even pets could be contacted, and/or reached without using any of the Sahiriin's languages. It is very logical, since our departed ones did not speak the archaic languages of the Arwaah of the ancient world. If your departed ones spoke English, French or Spanish for instance, you can contact them in any of these languages, as long as they did not traverse yet the "40 Day Period" after they passed away. Once they have left the zone of the 40 day period to another dimension, no one, no psychic, no medium, and no practitioner of the black or white arts can contact them. In other words, if you want to contact John Doe who spoke English, in English, go ahead without hesitation, because you are using a language he perfectly understands. You can't contact him in a language he is not familiar with. Remember there are no foreign languages schools and tapes for learning a foreign language in the afterlife. If you want to contact Mr. Ahmad X or Y, who spoke only Arabic, then you must try to reach him in Arabic. And if you want to contact an ancient spirit from Babylon or Sidon, then you must communicate with that spirit in Babylonian or Phoenician. And if you want to contact a Djinn or an Afarit, then you must contact them in one of their own languages which we have included in this book.

5th Edition. How To Become An Effective Energy Healer And Master Of The Healing Touch

The present work deals with energy healing and not faith healing,
Thus, our study, exploration, training, and techniques as presented in this book pertain exclusively to bio-organic, mental-physical, and the extra-dimensional energy, emanated from the human body and the human mind, which can be revealed and detected in the laboratory, as well as in the immediate physical effects on the physical body, and our environment.
This most unusual book teaches you step-by-step how to mentally and metaphysically heal people. It is purely a compendium and a synopsis of powers of the mind techniques which can be learned and applied by following the instructions revealed in the book. To become an effective energy healer, the practitioner must fully understand:

• 1-The nature of energy. In other words, what is energy? And how it works?
• 2-Sources and levels of energy.
• 3-How does energy (Bad or good) affect the mind and the body?
• 4-Techniques for animating and activating the practitioner's energy.
• 5-How does energy appear to those who can see it?
• 6-The meaning of colors of energy.
• 6- How to block negative vibes.
• 7- How to stop attracting negative people to your life.
• 8- How to discover the energy of the mind and the body
• 9- How to find energy's good days and bad days, and
• energy's good hours and the bad hours.
• 10- Ousoul; the universe's rules and the rhythm of the Micro Wheel and Macro Wheel.
• 11-How to reverse the flux of bad energy, bad days, and bad hours.
• 12- Mintaka Difaya: Protecting your zone.
• 13- The healing touch technique and mechanism, including the prerequisites and preparation.

How To Read Peoples' Vibes And Know Who They Really Are Just By Looking At Them

How to Read Peoples' Vibes and Know Who They Really Are Just by Looking at Them. See their Aura, Sense their Vibes, Feel their Energy

This is the first time ever, a step-by-step manual/book on how to read peoples' vibes and know who they really are just by looking at them has been published. A most useful and fascinating book that teaches you how to see peoples' Aura, sense their vibes, and feel their energy.

It is abundant with illustrations, charts and sketches describing in detail all the phases and stages of fabulous Mind-Power esoteric techniques which were shrouded in secrecy for centuries. Just look at any person and find out in seconds what he/she is thinking of, what his or her intentions are, and how you can use effective techniques to:

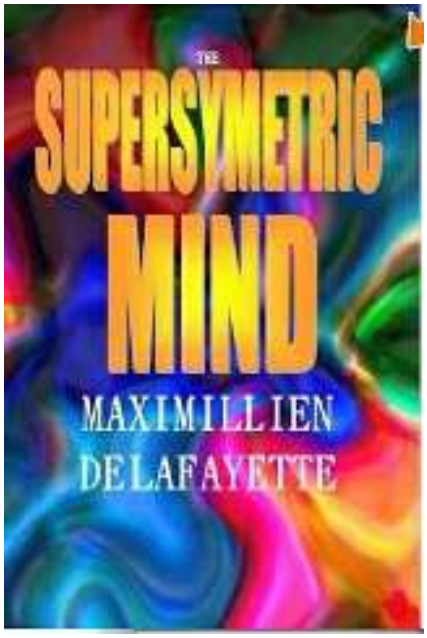
* Counter vicious thoughts and actions aimed at you.
* Discover what people are thinking of you.
* Read their mind and consequently adopt a successful strategy to boost your position, protect your interests, and enhance your communication skills.
* Unlock the mysteries of the human mind, and use it as an effective tool to make your wishes come true.
The book is an unprecedented invitation to the world of Power of the Mind and its mysteries, a journey to another dimension where only the privileged seers and mystic Ulema could enter and learn from. It is a book of wisdom, Firasa and ultimate knowledge.



THE SUPERSYMETRIC MIND:

Activation of the Conduit and the Supersymetric Mind.

You need to reach the zone of "Oneness", to activate your "Conduit" and dig deep into your Supersymetric Mind. Many students and friends have asked me if there is an immediate way to solve the harsh financial problems they are facing; some sort of an Anunnaki Ulema relief-technique to bring them wealth, make them succeed in business, get rid of their troubles, and reach their goals.

The enlightened masters told us that there is only one way, one technique, one method to reach Alsoudk (Truth) and Iftirach (Happiness), which are the most important reasons, cause and effect of our intellectual and spiritual ascension. And through this ascension, our eyes will open up, our mind will develop, our heart will expand, and our being, physically, spiritually and mentally will enter the zone of ultimate knowledge; a knowledge which is an intricate part of the state of "Oneness", reachable only through our "Conduit" and "Supersymnetric Mind". Yes, of course, enlightenment could be achieved differently, using alternative methods and paths, as explained by Brahmans, Lamas, Gurus, Swamis, Senseis, spiritual guides, and others. But no path and no alternative method are as sublime and flawless as the Anunnaki Ulema's Tarika (Road or Way of Knowledge). And yes, you can walk on that road, and reach the hill of light, if you get rid of the Tabi'a, the lowest level of your mind, where the human nature is stained by weaknesses, nourished with vanity and greed, and solely breeds on attachment to materialistic values. When you confer with your "Supersymetric Mind", and when you activate your "Conduit", even partially, you will be able to accomplish the quasi-impossible.
This book is not the ultimate and entire mental and esoteric arsenal you need in your fight against ignorance, nor the Alpha and Omega of the enlightenment Tarika, but it could help you a lot in finding and developing extraordinary mental and supernatural powers you had within you since you were born, but you never knew that you had them, or you could have used them when you needed an immediate relief, a helping hand, and a strong shoulder to lean on.
This book will show you a few techniques that could activate part of your "Conduit", and teach you how to converse with your “Supersymetric Mind”, which is the original blueprints of your intelligence (Hidden and known), and the amazingly vast depot of knowledge and know-how, which were given to you, but you have never used, simply because you didn’t know that such depot did exist, and you were rightfully entitled to have access to. Your mind is a magnificent tool, a superb machine, an unimaginable instrument you can use to solve lots of problems on so many levels, to strengthen your faith in yourself, and to reach for the stars. Those stars are not very far away from you, for you can reach them, for you can touch them, if you use your Conduit and “Supersymetric Mind”.

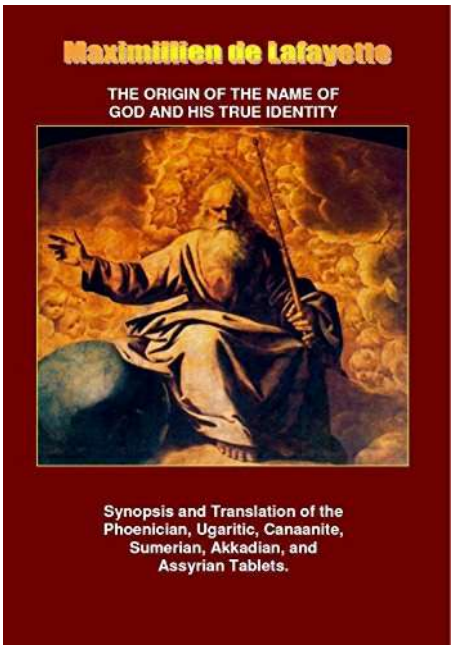
Explanation of Sumerian and Assyrian Tablets, Slabs and seals and Translation of Cuneiform Inscriptions
Volume I from the Series
Illustrated History of the Civilizations, Religions, Folklore, and Myths of the Middle East, Near East, and Asia Minor.

Explanation of Sumerian and Assyrian Tablets, Slabs and seals and Translation of Cuneiform Inscriptions (Illustrated History of the Civilizations, and Culture of the Middle East, Near East, and Asia Minor.)

A monumental work. The world's first book of its kind! Conceived and written for the use of universities' professors, teachers of art history and history of ancient civilizations, as well as for students and researchers in the field. In this most unique book, the author explains the meaning, the message and structure of hundreds upon hundreds of Mesopotamian tablets, slabs, seals, obelisks, and cuneiform inscriptions.



The origin of the name of God and his true identity. Synopsis and Translation of the Phoenician, Ugaritic, Canaanite, Sumerian, Akkadian, and Assyrian Tablets.

The name of God "Yahweh", his attributes and extraordinary (Supernatural) powers and deeds were borrowed from pagans' gods; gods the Israelites worshiped before they "created" their own god "Yahweh", who centuries later, became the God of the Christians and the Muslims. So is it fair and logical to assume that we are worshiping a "Pagans' God" or more precisely an amalgam of mythical gods? You bet! And this is exactly, the delicate, fragile and controversial topic we will be exploring, discussing and explaining in this treatise. If you are fanatically religious and you believe every word in the Bible, and all the stories rabbis, sheiks, Imams, bishops and priests tell you, then, do not read this treatise, because it could disturb you, and lead you to believe that it was written to discredit your faith and your beliefs in the Jewish Bible, the Torah, Talmud, the Christian Bible (New Testament), Jesus, the Christian Church, the Koran, and the Prophets. And this is not the case at all. The conclusions are based upon linguistic, historical, geographical, and archaeological facts and irrefutable findings, scrolls and inscriptions written centuries before any organized religion was established on Earth, and the word "GOD" was ever pronounced by or known to mankind.
